EXT. APPROACHING FIRE ISLAND PINES. DAY

Masses of beautiful men come towards the camera. The dock is full and the boat is packed as it disgorges more beautiful young men. NED WEEKS, 40, with his dog Sam, prepares to disembark. He suddenly puts down his bag and pulls off his shirt. He wears a tank-top.

EXT. HARBOR AT FIRE ISLAND PINES. DAY

Ned is the last to disembark. Sam pulls him forward to the crowd of waiting men, now coming even closer. Ned suddenly puts down his bag and puts his shirt back on. CRAIG, 20s and endearing, greets him; they hug.

NED
How you doing, pumpkin?

CRAIG
We're doing great.

EXT. BRUCE NILES'S HOUSE. FIRE ISLAND PINES. DAY

TIGHT on a razor shaving a chiseled chest. Two HANDSOME guys in their 20s -- NICK and NINO -- are on the deck by a pool, shaving their pecs. They are taking this very seriously. Ned and Craig walk up, observe this. Craig laughs.

CRAIG
What are you guys doing?

NINO
Hairy is out. Your turn, Teddy Bear.

Ned puts his arm protectively across his hairy chest.

NED
No, no, I love my Teddy!

NICK
Calvin Klein would not approve.

It's an insult, but Ned laughs, enters the house, sees --

INT. BRUCE NILES'S HOUSE. FIRE ISLAND PINES. DAY

BRUCE NILES, 30s, very handsome in a clean-cut western way, fiddling with a TV. He is beaming from ear to ear.

BRUCE
The baseball strike is over and my summer has officially begun!

CRAIG
The thing is, he really means it.

BRUCE
Hey Ned, glad you could make it.
Haven’t seen you at the gym lately.
Beer?

Craig gives Bruce a kiss hello, Bruce tosses Ned a cool one. Ned notices an immaculate ARMY UNIFORM hanging on a doorframe.

BRUCE (CONT’D)
Just back from reserves. Once a month I get to play -- (mock punching him on his shoulder)
-- a real man.

NED
I like your stripes, Lieutenant. Hot.

CRAIG
Please. Captain!

Nino and Nick enter with their razors, very bossy queens.

NINO
Your turn, Bruce.

They toss him a can of shaving cream. He shakes his head no.

NICK
Brucie, please. Don't embarrass our house at the beach, hon.

Bruce pauses, grins a huge smile, and lathers up his chest with the foam. As he marches out to shave, all charisma --

BRUCE
If you can’t beat 'em, join 'em.

He salutes Ned, who laughs.

EXT. BEACH. FIP. DAY

Filled with a never-ending parade and vista of gorgeous men. Ned and MICKEY walk and watch Craig and Bruce playing football with some of the other guys.

MICKEY
Craig was miserable when you weren’t interested. Now look. He’s got Robert Redford.

(CONTINUED)
NED
It shows you there is a God. How’s John?

MICKEY
John? Oh, you mean John. I'm with Gregory now. We're celebrating our fifteen-month anniversary.

NED
Fifteen months. That's a long time for you, Mickey.

MICKEY
We're only lovers and live together. We're certainly not faithful to each other, too. He's not even Jewish, but don't tell my Rabbi.

MORTON
(calling from a blanket)
Hey, Weeks. You suck. Why do you even come here anymore? We don't want you.

MICKEY
You made us look terrible in your novel. Sex is liberating. It's always guys like you who've never had one who always go on and on about relationships and fidelity and holy matrimony. How long have we known each other now? You're still acting like a closet straight.

NED
All I said was having so much sex makes finding love impossible.

MICKEY
Do not put your failure to find somebody on the rest of us.

BRUCE
Hey Ned, heads up!

Ned, of course, drops the football. Suddenly Craig doubles over, then gets down on his hands and knees. Ned and Bruce run to him, followed by Mickey. Craig makes himself get up.

CRAIG
I'm okay!

Bruce tries to put his arms around him.

CRAIG (CONT’D)
I said I'm okay!

INT. BRUCE NILES'S HOUSE. FIRE ISLAND PINES. NIGHT

TIGHT ON a birthday cake, blazing with candles. Bruce carries it towards a beaming Craig. There are twenty guys here including Ned, everyone is singing "Happy Birthday."

NINO Blow!

BRUCE
He's great at that.

Everyone roars laughing. Craig makes a wish and blows. Everyone is joyous and cheers. Bruce downs a shot, then --

BRUCE (CONT’D)
I love this fucking place! I do! We've got it all, I fucking love it!

Sound of firecrackers mixed with disco music starts building.

EXT. BEACH. FIP. NIGHT/DAWN

From the sidelines, Ned, by himself. He sees Bruce and Craig making out on the dance floor. In fact everyone on the dance floor is in some sort of physical closeness. It's hard not to feel very alone. Ned gets up and starts walking.

EXT. DUNES. NIGHT

Ned starts the walk home alone. As he passes, he notices figures in the shadows. No one's face is visible. Just shadows. Foggy. Misty. Body parts intertwined.

EXT. FERRY. DAY

Ned, riveted by this article on the way back to the city.

TITLE SEQUENCE.
INT. DR. EMMA BROOKNER'S WAITING ROOM. NYU MEDICAL CENTER. 10 DAY

As the title sequence ends, REVEAL Ned waiting. Sanford, 40s, comes out of Emma's office. His face and skin are covered with purple spots...KS lesions. As he walks to a WINDOW to make another appointment, he smiles at a riveted Ned.

SANFORD
I sold you a ceramic pig once at Maison France on Bleeker Street. I'm Sanford.

NED
Yes, I remember. Somebody I was friends with then collected pigs and you had the biggest pig I'd ever seen outside of a real pig.

SANFORD
(re: his spots)
They just keep getting bigger and won't go away. I'm her twentieth case and six of them are dead.

He exits. Ned is rattled. Buzzy, a nurse, comes in.

BUZZY
Hey, Ned! Won't be a minute.

NED
Hey, Buzzy...I didn't know you worked here.

Buzzy goes into the inner office with a file. A beat.

EMMA'S VOICE
Who are you?

NED
Ned Weeks. I spoke to you after the Times' article.

EMMA'S VOICE
Come in and take your clothes off.

INT. EMMA'S EXAMINING ROOM. NYU MEDICAL CENTER. DAY

Ned going in. We see Emma in an electric wheelchair.

EMMA
You're the writer fellow who's scared. I'm scared, too.

(CONTINUED)
NED
I only came to ask some questions.

EMMA
You're gay aren't you?

NED
Yes.

EMMA
Then take your clothes off. Don't be nervous. I've seen more men than you have.

CUT TO:

Ned stands before Emma. She is examining him. First with a stethoscope to his chest. Buzzy is putting his blood draws into a rack.

EMMA (CONT’D)
To answer all your questions, I don't know. Never seen or heard of anything like it. Turn around.
(Listener to his back)
Even after we find it -- Cough. Again. Stand still! Cough!

NED Sorry.

EMMA
-- it takes years to learn how to prevent and cure anything. Turn around.
(Listener to his testicles)
You're a nervous one.

She pats the examining table. He jumps up on it. She grabs his foot and starts inspecting between his toes, carefully. He starts to giggle again. He shrugs.

NED
I'm ticklish.

EMMA
Have you had any of the symptoms?

NED
Yes. Most of the shit the Times said. Amoebas. Gonorrhea. Hepatitis... You don't know what it's been like since the sexual revolution.
EMMA
What makes you think I don't know?

NED
Don't I wish. No.

EMMA
And purple lesions. Open your mouth.
(as she examines him)
It's a cancer. There's a strange reaction in the immune system. It's collapsed. Won't fight. So most of the diseases my guys are coming down with are caused by germs that wouldn't hurt a baby, not a baby in New York City anyway. And the immune system is the system we know least about. So where is this big mouth I hear you've got?

NED
Is big mouth a symptom?

EMMA
No, a cure. Right now it only seems to be happening to gay men. Who cares if a faggot dies? Buzzy says you're well-known in the gay world and not afraid to say what you think.

Ned shoots Buzzy a look, who quickly leaves with the blood.

EMMA (CONT'D)
I can't find any gay leaders. I call gay organizations. No one ever calls me back.

NED
Dr. Brookner, no one with half a brain gets involved with gay politics. There's no room for criticism, for looking at ourselves critically.

EMMA
What's your criticism?

NED
I hate how we play victim when many of us, most of us, don't have to.

EMMA
Then you're exactly what's needed now. Maybe they're just waiting for somebody to lead them.

NED
I don't want to lead them! Wouldn't it be better coming from you?

EMMA
Doctors are even more conservative than Ronald Reagan. They run fast from anything that smells. And this smells. Big time. When you make too much noise you get treated like a fucking nutcase just when you're needed most.

NED
Needed for what? What exactly are you trying to get me to do?

EMMA
Tell gay men to stop having sex.

NED
You think this cancer is sexually transmitted?

EMMA
I think so, yes. Can I prove it yet? No.

NED
Do you realize you're talking about millions of men who have singled out promiscuity as their principle political agenda. How do you deal with that?

EMMA
Tell them they may die.

NED
It's more complicated. They think sex is all they have. We're not exactly allowed to live out in the open like human beings.

EMMA
Mr. Weeks, if having sex can kill you, doesn't anyone with half a brain stop fucking?
(MORE)
Noise is heard from the outer office.

INT. EMMA'S WAITING ROOM. NYU MEDICAL CENTER. DAY

BRUCE'S VOICE
Where do I go? What do I do!?

Bruce, wearing a business suit, rushes in carrying Craig, helped by Mickey. Ned is getting dressed quickly.

EMMA
Put him on the table. What happened?

INT. EMMA'S OFFICE. DAY

Craig is deposited on the table, Emma examines Craig.

EXT. HOSPITAL. DAY (FLASHBACK)

Bruce and Mickey head towards the entrance. They stop, stunned, as ahead they see Craig...pale and shaky, sweating, almost delirious. Craig starts crying and running towards them in a panic, but he's like a feral animal near death.

BRUCE'S VOICE
I was meeting him outside and he started running toward me and he...collapsed to the ground.

INT. EMMA'S OFFICE. DAY

Craig, burning with a high fever, starts to convulse. Buzzy grabs him; Mickey and Bruce follow suit. Emma takes a tongue depressor and puts it in Craig's mouth.

EMMA
Hold on to his chin. You the lover?
What's your name?

BRUCE
Bruce Niles, ma'am.

EMMA
(taking the phone)
Brookner. Set up a room immediately. Niles. You were Reinhardt Holz's lover?

BRUCE
How did you know that? I haven't seen him in a couple of years.

EMMA
He died three weeks ago.

Ned is now standing outside the room. He and Bruce lock eyes as Emma Closes the door on Ned.

INT. HOSPITAL WAITING ROOM. NYU MEDICAL CENTER. DAY

Bruce approaches. Ned, Mickey and Buzzy stand. Bruce has been crying. Everyone has tears in their eyes.

BRUCE
They wouldn't even let me say goodbye. Kiss him...goodbye.

NED
I'm so sorry.

MICKEY
It can happen this fast?

BUZZY
It just has.

NED
We have to do something. No one else will. Between us we know a lot of people.

MICKEY
Bruce knows all the hot numbers and Ned knows all the guys who can read.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. NIGHT

Emma is speaking to a full house. It's anarchy.

MORTON
You make these assumptions on the basis of forty-six cases!

EMMA
You wanted to know what I think. This is what I think: you are all going to infect each other. Now only a few of you have. Unfortunately we can't tell yet which ones.

Bruce looks nervous, worried, Ned notices.

EMMA (CONT’D)
Long before we isolated the hepatitis viruses we knew about the diseases they caused and how they got around.

MORTON
Where are the medical journals? The Times?

NED
You know the Times won’t write about us. They won’t even call us gay. We’re still "homosexuals."

EMMA
I sent my first reports to the medical journals over a year ago.

TOMMY
How do you know what to look for really fast when you don’t know what you’re looking for? I guess that’s a dumb question.

EMMA
No it isn’t. It’s the smartest question of all and the hardest to answer. Doesn’t common sense tell you to cool it for a while?

TOMMY
Not much to look forward to. What if it turns out you’re wrong?

EMMA
Then the worst that will have happened is you’ll have cooled it for a while.

MICKEY
No, that’s not all that would have happened. Guys will have become frightened of sex, guys will have lost their gay self-respect, so long fought for, we’ll be scapegoated worse than ever, the world will think we’re carriers, the Moral Majority will have even more of a field day!

Emma senses the crowd is getting restless. A few are leaving.

EMMA
Wait! I'm seeing more cases each week than the week before. Half of all my patients die!

BELLA
I hope she winds it up. I've got a tiny little orgy in New Rochelle.

JOHN FROM THE BACK
Where's the health department?
Where's the Mayor?

TOMMY
Is every gay meeting like this?
Half the people here just showed up to get laid.

Tommy smiles flirtatiously at Ned, but Ned isn't interested.

EMMA
Please wait! Listen to me!

Others are leaving. Now she gets furious and plows her way through the crowd to the door. Ned is very moved by her. He runs after her.

INT. ELEVATOR FOYER. NED'S BUILDING. NIGHT
Ned tries to catch Emma before the elevator leaves. Elevator door closes in his face.

NED
Welcome to gay politics.

Off Emma's face as the doors close --

EXT. DRUG STORE. DAY
Ned looks at the glass storefront. A few PHOTOS of truly hideous KS LESIONS, the guy in the pics is covered with them. His eyes look terrified. A SIGN is next to them: "SOMETHING AWFUL IS GOING ON OUT THERE GUYS, THIS IS WHAT IT LOOKS LIKE." Off Ned --

EXT. NEW YORK TIMES BUILDING. DAY
Ned looks up at it, pulls up his shoulders, and prepares to do battle.

INT. LOBBY AND GUARD'S DESK. DAY
Ned rushes in past the guard, waving a handful of papers.

I'm very late for an important meeting with Craig Claiborne. He's expecting me. Tell him -- Mr. Julian Childs.

And he whizzes by and into an elevator.

INT. NEW YORK TIMES BUILDING. DAY

Ned, walking fast, past cubicles, checking nameplates. At the end of the row --

I'm sorry. I'm looking for Mr. Felix Turner.

And you are?

My name is Ned Weeks. You're very...cute.

You caught me at a rough moment. I have a deadline. First Lady's coming to town.

I've been told he's gay and might be able to help me get vital information in the Times...

You've been told? And who was it who told you?

Felix is walking, Ned behind in hot pursuit.

I'm sorry to hear that. What would you suggest I do?

FELIX
Take your pick. I've got 23 parties, 37 new restaurants, 12 new discos and a police department fashion benefit at Yankee Stadium. Anything sound interesting?

NED
I guess that means you're gay. Listen, no one here wants to write another article! I've talked to half a dozen reporters and the guy who worked on the first piece.

FELIX
Mr. Leather? No, no one here will write about it. And I can't. We're very compartmentalized. You wouldn't want science to write about sweaters, would you?

NED
It is a very peculiar feeling having to go out and seek support from the straight world for something gay.

FELIX
I wouldn't know about that. I just write about...
    (whispering each "gay")
gay designers and gay discos and gay chefs and gay rock stars and gay models and gay celebrities and gay everything. I just don't call them gay.

NED
(whispering back)
Isn't it time to start?

FELIX
I really do have a deadline and you wouldn't want me to get fired.

NED
Guys like you give me a pain in the ass.

FELIX
Are you in the book?

NED
Yes.
Stacks of a Native article, "Cancer in the Gay Community by Michael R. Marcus." There is a picture of Mickey near the headline. Guys we are beginning to recognize, Ned, Bruce, Mickey, Tommy etc. are trying to pass them out to guys, many of whom won’t take them, or throw them in a trash bin or on the ground. Lots of signs "Give to Gay Cancer."

EXT. BEACH. FIRE ISLAND. DAY

A bleak day. Deserted. A big photograph of Craig held aloft. About twenty guys. Ned, Mickey, etc. A man with a minister's collar hands Bruce (in his uniform) a small box. Bruce starts to scatter Craig's ashes over the water, then, even though he is clothed, wades into the water, scattering more...

EXT. BACK DECK. BRUCE'S HOUSE. NIGHT

Ned and Bruce sit under the moon, stars. Sam asleep.

BRUCE
Funny -- my mother sent flowers. We never ever talked about me being gay. I just told her Craig died. I guess she knew.

NED
I think mothers always somehow know.

INT. BRUCE'S HOUSE. NIGHT (LATER)

He and Ned finishing counting out the money from the canisters and lock boxes. They are sitting on the floor.

BRUCE
$124. From three days and maybe 15,000 guys.

NED
They actually gave us pennies.

Bruce has been looking at something on the other side of the room. His eyes fill with tears. He crawls on his hands and knees and from under the bed he pulls out a pair of jeans.

BRUCE
It must have been six months ago. We were really ripped. Some cleaning lady we pay for, huh?

Ned crawls to comfort Bruce, tries to hold him, awkwardly. Then Bruce pulls away, walks into another room. Off Ned --
A handsome lawyer's office. Ben is studying a mini model of a palatial HOUSE. He looms above it, like a giant.

NED
Doesn't spending two million dollars on a house frighten you? It would scare the shit out of me.
Even if I had it.

BEN
You can have a house anytime you want one. That reminds me.
(gives some papers to Ned to sign)
Your account needs more money. You haven't done badly.
(as Ned signs)
I miss you being in the movie business. I like movies.

NED
Do I detect a note of approval from the big brother who called me Lemon?
(them)
I don't want a house.

BEN
Then why have you been searching in the country for one for so long?

NED
No fun living in it alone.

BEN
Is this Bruce someone you're seeing?

NED
I see him. He just doesn't see me. Everyone's afraid of me anyway. I frighten them away. But thanks for asking. Ben, could your law firm take us on for free -- what's it called, pro bono? We're starting an organization. I told you. There's this new disease.

BEN
You're not doing that full-time! It sounds like another excuse to keep from writing.
The waiter, Mario, has seated them and handed them menus. The restaurant is full. Ned notices that Mario has tried to cover some of his purple spots with make-up. It's heartbreaking.

NED

Why can't you just say yes?

BEN

I told you. We have a committee that decides this sort of thing.

NED

But you're the senior partner and I'm your brother.

(to the waiter)

Hi, Mario. How's Homer?

Mario shakes his head indicating "not so hot." Ned looks back at his brother with determination.

NED (CONT’D)

If you're not going to help, I have to find somebody else.

BEN

You're more than free to do that.

NED

I don't want to do that! I want my big brother's fancy, famous big deal MAJOR law firm to be the first straight New York law firm to do pro bono work for a gay cause. I'd be real proud of that. And you.

Mario gives Ned a thumbs up.

BEN

I'll ask my partners' approval at the next meeting.

NED

I'll lobby them. You don't seem like a very sure vote.

Ned tries to give Ben a hug, which Ben has trouble with, finally giving him a little one back.

NED

You're getting better at it.
A bleak underground tunnel. Emma showing Ned, he is taking notes for a piece he is writing.

EMMA
I'm seeing 4-5 new cases a week. I still cannot get any response from the Mayor's office or from our Health Commissioner. Or from our Governor. Or from the New York Times. Or from the AMA. Forget the President.

INT. CORRIDOR. NYU MEDICAL CENTER. DAY
Ned walking, Emma in her wheelchair.

EMMA
I have 7 in ICU. The whole hospital has room for only 30. I've had to admit some of them under other illnesses. That's a no-no. I've got 20 in private rooms they can't afford.

NED
What about guys with no health insurance? Actors, artists...

EMMA
I've got eight of them in another ward, where I shouldn't put them.

INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY. DAY
Ned and Emma continue to move.

NED
Why don't you wear gloves and a face mask?

EMMA
I never have and I never will and I'm still here.

Ned stops in front of a room with a DANGER SIGN on it. He sees a tray of hospital food in front of the door. Odd.

NED
Why is this out here? It's cold.

EMMA
It's always cold because the staff won't bring it in the room. It sits there and rots unless my staff brings it in.

Ned looks in the window, sees Sanford of the Ceramic Pig...all curled up in agony and hideousness.

NED
Can I go in? I know him.
EMMA
Only if you wear all the protective shit.

NED
If you don't, I don't.

He pushes open the door and opens it for her to follow him.

INT. SANFORD'S ROOM. DAY

He's delirious with dementia. Emma takes his hand as Ned puts the tray down.

EMMA
How we doing, soldier?

SANFORD
I want my dog. He won't know how to live without me. Can you please bring me my dog?

Ned notices that the old TV is flickering. He goes to fix it.

EMMA
Don't bother. The union won't let them come into the room to repair them.

SANFORD
Who's going to bring me my dog? His name's Skip. He'll come when you call him.

(starts to cry)

Please, I miss him.

INT. ANOTHER ROOM. NYU MEDICAL CENTER. DAY

Two young men in adjoining beds moved side by side so they can hold hands. Emma and Ned are revealed outside looking in.

EMMA
Can you imagine this at 19...your first boyfriend you were going to spend your whole life with.
INT. THAT ROOM. HALLWAY. DAY

Emma and Ned start off. Emma spies MIKE the technician up ahead.

EMMA
Excuse me...excuse me!

He turns as she zips up to him.

EMMA (CONT’D)
You're the TV guy, right? Please go into room 407 and fix it.

MIKE THE TECH
No, I won't do that.

EMMA
Fix the TV, it's your fucking job.

MIKE THE TECH
I'm not risking my life for some contagious diseased fairy.

Emma sees his fear, takes a measured beat.

EMMA Sir --

MIKE THE TECH
If I have to go in there, I fucking quit.

He walks off. Emma turns to Ned.

EMMA
So what exactly has your side been doing?

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. EVENING

Ned nervously opens the front door. Felix is there, carrying a bottle of wine. Sam jumps up on him. Lights are low. The dining table has been set for a candlelit dinner for two.

NED
Hi. Thanks. You want some of this? A beer?

FELIX
Beer's fine. Hi pooch.

NED
Her name is Sam.

FELIX
You know I really used to like high-tech. But I'm tired of it now. I think I want chintz back again. Don't be insulted.

NED
I'm not. I want chintz back again, too.

FELIX
So. Here we are. Two fellows who want chintz back again.

NED
This is a date, isn't it?

Felix reaches in fridge and pulls out some food.

FELIX
I'm starving. Are you glad I'm here?

NED
I'm pleased as punch you're here. You're very good-looking. What are you doing here?

FELIX
Do you think you're bad-looking?

NED
Where are you from?

FELIX
I'm from Oklahoma. I left home at 18, put myself through college. My folks are dead. My dad worked at the refinery in West Tulsa. My mom was a waitress at a luncheonette in Walgreens.

NED
Isn't it amazing how a kid can come out of all that and wind up on the Times, dictating taste and style to the entire world?

FELIX
And we were just starting to talk so nicely.
Talking is not my problem. Shutting up is my problem.

(then)
Why do you write all that fancy ball-gown bullshit?

FELIX
I'll bet you gobble it up every day.

NED
I know ten people who have died. When I came to you it was only one.

FELIX
I'm sorry. Is that why you agreed to this date?
(resets Ned's silver)
Fork on the left, knife on the right.

NED
Do you know that when Hitler's Final Solution to eliminate the Polish Jews was first mentioned in the Times it was on page 28. And on page 6 of the Washington Post? They were both owned by Jews! Their very own people. Scholars are finally writing honestly and it's damning to everyone. Where were the Christian churches, the Pope, Churchill, Roosevelt! A few words from any of them would have put Hitler on notice. Dachau was opened in 1933. Where the fuck was everybody?

FELIX
This is turning out to be a very romantic evening. You've never had a lover, have you?

NED
I suppose you've had quite a few?

FELIX
I had a very good one for a number of years, thank you. He was older than I was and he found someone younger.
You looking for a father?

No, I am not looking for a father! God, you are relentless.

Ned suddenly grabs Felix and kisses him. The kiss becomes quite intense when Ned jumps up.

Everybody had a million reasons for not getting involved. The American Jews knew exactly what was happening. Can you imagine if every Jew had marched on Washington? Proudly! Huh!?

Ned, you don't remember me, do you?

Felix in only a towel, stands leaning against a wall, watching from a little distance as Ned is cruising a blond number, who finally gives him the brush off.

It was at the baths a few years ago. You were busy cruising some blond number and I stood outside your door waiting for you to come back.

Ned returns, sees Felix, gives him a stern examination...

And then what?

Ned opens the door, goes in, leaving the door open a little. Felix goes in.

Ned is sitting on a mattress. Felix sits beside him. Ned closes his eyes and sticks his hand out, touching Felix's chest. Felix takes his own hand and opens Ned's eyes.
INT. NED'S CUBICLE AT BATHS. NIGHT (FLASHBACK)

NED
I have to get up early in the morning.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. NIGHT

FELIX
Men do not naturally not love, they learn not to. I think you're a bluffer.

Ned just stares, astonished. Then --

NED
How could I not remember you?

FELIX
I don't know.

A long beat.

NED
Do you think we could start over?

INT. NED'S BEDROOM. NIGHT

Both men naked on the bed, lit only by moonlight. Ned bends to kiss Felix and they start to make love. CUT TO:

They are still in bed. Eating ice cream from pint containers, mid conversation.

NED
When I was at Yale I thought I was the only gay guy there, swear to God. I went to a shrink who tried to change me. Now they have these Gay Weeks there, and they throw the best dances of anyone. Imagine being able to dance cheek to cheek with your boyfriend during your bright college days.

FELIX
Did you ever sleep with a woman?

NED
Her name was Delilah. She was a stand-in on this movie I wrote. She was very nice and pretty and always smiling at me.

(MORE)

I asked a straight friend to explain everything, I thought I knew, but just in case, I had her to dinner and afterward, at what I deemed to be a suitable moment, because I'd been communicating to it down there "Are you ready, are you absolutely certain you're ready?" and it seemed Abercrombie was ready, I picked her up, very Rhett Butler, and carried her to my bed, where I couldn't get it up.

FELIX
I certainly can identify with that.

NED
But in the middle of the night I wake up with this gigantic erection, god knows how, and I shake her, shouting "Please stick it in for me Delilah," I was afraid it would go down while I was hunting for the right place in the dark, and she did and I did and Abercrombie did, and the very next morning, I -- who was under the spell of this shrink who was determined to change me -- rushed into his office and I, who had been fucking with fellows since the 7th grade, hysterically, at the age of 32, proclaimed "Dr. Gillespie, I am no longer a virgin!"

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. MORNING

Ned is asleep. Felix is dressed and bending to say goodbye. Sam is curled up in the blankets.

FELIX
Nice meeting you, Sam.

He leaves. Ned opens his eyes. He hears the front door closing. What is he going to do now?

INT. CITY HALL. ROTUNDA RECEPTION. DAY

Various bureaucrats are milling around. A banner reading Department of Cultural Affairs. A big cake iced, "Good Luck Henry." Henry and Ned talking to the side.

NED
So I just go over and say hello. He doesn't know I hate him?

HENRY
I told him I invited you, that we went to Yale together. This is my farewell party. What's he going to do? Let's go.

They start walking to the group surrounding the Mayor, Edward Koch. Bodyguards move in closer to Koch. To Henry --

GUARD
His Honor would like your friend to get lost.

NED
(jumps into action, pushing toward Koch)
Mr. Mayor, you've got to help us. There's this new disease. You must know about it! We need help. Badly.

The whole thing quickly becomes a mess. The closer Ned gets to Koch, the more he's guarded and the harsher the guards' treatment of Ned is. Three guards corner him, twist his arm behind him, and start pulling him away quickly.

NED (CONT'D)
We're dying! What are you doing! Stop it, you pigs! This is America!

Ned is quickly silenced and out of sight.

INT. DISCO. NIGHT

Stacks of packed cartons arranged by zip codes. Our group of guys we have come to know are here: Morton, Bella, Nino, Nick, Tommy, etc.

MICKEY
This is what Ned wrote for us to send out.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. NIGHT

Ned types furiously on his typewriter. The words and passion are exploding out of him. TIGHT on the words as we hear them:

MICKEY'S VOICE
"I am sick of guys moaning that giving up careless sex until this blows over is worse than death. I am sick of guys who can only think with their cocks. I am sick of closeted gays."

Felix comes in, naked, gets a glass of water.

FELIX
Come back to bed.

NED
In a minute, babe.

MICKEY'S VOICE
"It's 1982 now, guys, when are you going to come out? By 1984 you could be dead."

INT. DISCO. NIGHT

BRUCE
You're crazy.

NED
Am I, Bruce? Do you really think so?

MORTON
Aren't we supposed to elect a President tonight?

BRUCE
We can't tell people how to live their lives! We can't do that. We just can't do that. The entire gay political movement is fucking. We'd get it from all sides.

TOMMY
I'm very interested in setting up some sort of services for the patients. We've got to start talking about them. And there are a lot of scared people desperate for information. I'd like to start a hotline.

BRUCE
(whispering to Ned)
Who's he?

TOMMY
Oh. He does not know who I am yet.
His name is Tommy Boatwright.
In real life he is a hospital administrator. He's here to help.
And he's a Southern bitch.

BRUCE
(holds up envelope)
What the fuck is this!? Was this your idea?

NED
I'm looking. What am I not seeing?

MICKEY
What we put for our return address.

NED
You mean because the word "gay" is on the envelope?

BRUCE
Fucking A. Instead of just our initials. We can't send them out.

MICKEY
Excuse me, but if we want anyone to show up at the dance, we've got to mail them out right away.

NICK
We could go through and scratch out the word gay with a Magic Marker.

TOMMY
Honey, ten thousand times!

A very good-looking blond, Albert, has entered now, crossing with a box of the letters. Bruce and Albert clock each other.

NED
Look, Bruce, I have sympathy for kids living at home on Long Island with their parents, but most guys getting these -- look at you, you live alone, you own your own apartment, your mother lives in another state...

BRUCE
What about my mailman?

NED
You don't expect me to take you seriously?

BRUCE
Yes I do!

TOMMY
Ladies, behave!

MORTON
Look, it's getting late and we haven't elected our President.

MICKEY
Ned, I think it should be -- Bruce. Everybody knows him and likes him and, I mean, everybody expects you to...

NED
You mean he's popular and everybody's afraid of me.

MICKEY
Yes. He's gorgeous and all the kids on Christopher Street and Fire Island will feel more comfortable following him.

NED
Just like high school.

A BUNCH IN UNISON
Yes!

MORTON
All in favor of Bruce Niles for our first President, raise your hand.

Tommy gives Ned a supportive wink, until he sees EVERYBODY else has voted for Bruce.

BRUCE
I don't think I want this.

NED
Oh, come on. You're gorgeous and we're all going to follow you.

BRUCE
Fuck you, I accept.
NED
Well fuck you, congratulations.

TOMMY
What is it you do for a living, if I may ask?

BRUCE
I'm a vice-president of Citibank --

TOMMY
Nothing to be shy about, sugar. You invented the cash machine.

BRUCE
-- until they hear about this.

NED
Bruce, Citibank won't fire you for being gay. And if they did we could make such a stink that every gay customer in New York...Bruce, you were a Green Beret!

BRUCE
I love my job. I supervise a couple hundred people across the country. My boss doesn't know and he hates gay people. We have to stay out of anything political!

NED
It's going to be impossible to pass along any information or any recommendation that isn't going to be considered political by somebody! Haven't you learned that yet?

Almost without knowing it, a line has been drawn in the sand as these two friends stare at each other. Mickey looks particularly distressed.

CUT TO:

Everyone gone. Bella pulling the last trolley turns off the lights and leaves. One of the switches has turned on the revolving mirrored globe which performs for the empty space.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. NIGHT

Ned, Felix, Sam, all in bed and all eating ice cream as they watch "The Way We Were."

NED
Felix -- let's move somewhere far away, just the two of us, on a desert island, with the dog.

FELIX
Don't you dare stop for one single second what you're doing. I appreciate you not yelling at me about what the Times isn't doing, and my not being more political. Why don't you?

NED
It's a relief not to have to talk politics with somebody. That's not the reason.

FELIX
No?

NED
Because you're too good to be true. Because I've wanted a lover like you my whole life and you haven't showed up till now and I'm scared shitless I'll do something to fuck it up. Do you think I'm crazy?

FELIX
Of course. That's why I'm here.

HEAR MUSIC.

INT. FASHION SHOW. DAY

Male models wind up their finale number, led by Albert, Bruce's new friend. Albert gets a roar of approval, led by Bruce, with Ned in the front row. Felix is seen on the sidelines making notes. Albert is thinner and clearly wearing makeup.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. NIGHT

Bruce takes a cotton ball and wipes the makeup off Albert's face. Ned and Felix watch. Albert is exhausted and losing weight.

ALBERT
Did I look okay? Could you tell I was, you know, wearing makeup?

BRUCE
(lying)
No. You looked so great.

Ned is feeling Albert's glands under his arms and in his neck, Bruce watching.

NED
You've got to go see Emma.

ALBERT
Could we forget about this!? I'm all right. And if I'm not I don't want to know because no one will hire me and if I can't work I'd just as soon be dead.
(to Bruce)
I told you not to tell him.
(leaving, he embraces Bruce, but they don't kiss)
Already afraid to kiss me?

BRUCE
That's not true!

ALBERT
Well, I'm afraid to let you. I love you.

He leaves.

INT. GAY BAR. NIGHT

Ned and Bruce. Bruce is drunk. It's raining outside.

BRUCE
He's the third person I've been with. Reinhardt. Craig. If Albert has this I don't know what I'm going to do.
(a beat)
I never had a friend like you before.

NED
What do you mean, like me?

BRUCE
Where I come from...I never saw a Jew until I was in the Army. Reads books...isn't...
Isn't muscles, tits, and ass.

Yeah. None of my old friends, they don't talk to me anymore. I depress them, getting involved in this. You don't look Jewish.

You don't look gay. I guess we can both pass for white people.

(starts bawling)
Ned, I really love Albert.

Come on, I'm getting you home.

It's raining hard. Ned supports Bruce as they stumble home.

CLOSE: Bruce upchucks into the toilet. Ned has a hand on his back, to support him. Vomit gets on Bruce's shirt. He's still so drunk. He peels off his shirt and pants.

He wobbles to the shower stall, turns it on, gets in, starts to slip. Ned protectively races into the shower so he won't fall. Steadies Bruce as the water falls on them like rain. Ned smiles at the irony of the situation.

When I finally get you where I want you I don't want you anymore. Hey, Bruce, I'm in love, too.

Bruce is sobering up. Smiles slightly. Ned grabs his head, looks him dead in the eyes.

Hey...we're going to beat this. You and I, we're going to find a way to beat it.

Ned and Felix turning a corner and not believing their eyes. A huge crowd of guys is waiting to get in.
Holy shit.

Queen control. It really works when it wants to.

Dick Lombardo, a lawyer type, is nearby with a group.

Felix, this is Dick Lombardo. I've finally got us someone on our board that isn't a disco dumbie.

Well, maybe tonight...

INT. DISCO. NIGHT

Mirrored ball turning. Big sign "April Showers." A huge dancing crowd. The place is mobbed. Everybody is very up. Music: Gloria Gaynor, "I Will Survive."

Bruce delivering a speech to the crowd.

We sure are glad you all showed up! (loud cheers)
Tonight we're proving we have more than looks, brains, talent and heart. Tonight we've raised more money than any gay organization has ever raised in this city before.
(Ned hands him a card)
$53,000!

Huge cheers. Ned and Bruce embrace.

New York City Gay Men's Chorus singing "The Man I Love."

Ned pulls Felix out to the dance floor where same sex couples are dancing...like it's the prom they never had.

Everyone on the floor is kissing each other as the chorus crescendos. It is an amazingly wonderful sight. Even Emma, with several of her sick patients, sings the song.

Ned looks at Felix as they slowly sway, whispers in his ear.

All those dances, all those years, in high school, in college. Can you imagine if we could have had this? No shame, no fear.

FELIX
All I was imagining all those years... was you.

They kiss again, with great fervor and beauty.

On the piers, couples are sitting and standing and watching the dawn come up. Ned and Felix are off by themselves.

NED
Would you like to move in with me?

FELIX
Yes.

They sit there as if nothing has happened. Suddenly Ned lets out a wild whoop, jumps up, waving his arms and running about like a crazy man as he hollers with joy.

A tall man is seen carrying the limp body of another. It is Nino carrying Nick. He is screaming for help.

NED (V.O.)
We are all walking time bombs, waiting for whatever it is to set us off.

The rattle of the Selectric is insistent.

NED (V.O.)
If this article doesn't scare the shit out of you, gay men may have no future here on earth. Our continued existence depends on just how angry you can get...

Sound of doorbell.

Ned opens the door and lets in Nino, who is carrying the limp Nick in his arms. Felix is seen in the background.
They turned us away from four emergency rooms. I think he's lost his mind. Ned, where can I take him?

Being interviewed by a woman, SaraBeth Clare.

What do I think? I know that the government is intentionally ignoring this epidemic.

You're accusing the government of the United States of a conspiracy to murder all gay men?

Lettering appears under Ned "Ned Weeks, Co-Founder, Gay Men's Health Crisis."

Yes. Yes, you could say that. Yes, SaraBeth, I am. Yes.

Walls shelved with law books. All the guys here. Bruce presiding. Ned in the hot seat. Mickey is visibly upset by the fight going on. Tommy looking glacially into space.

You can't go on national TV and accuse the government of murder!

Why not?

One of these days they're going to give us money, research, grants...

Reagan still hasn't said the word in public! Congress still hasn't appropriated a dime. The Mayor still hasn't...on and on.
DICK
Ned, when you go public, you have no right to speak for this organization unless we have approved what you say in advance. In point of fact, you are not even an officer of this organization and shouldn't be speaking for us at all.

NED
Thank you for sharing that with me, Dick.

He walks out.

INT. NED ON TV.

The interviewer this time is a man, Malcolm Murphy.

MALCOLM
Why do you think New York City is being so slow to acknowledge and deal with this emergency?

Lettering under Ned "Ned Weeks, Gay Activist."

NED
You're implying that the city has recognized and acknowledged this emergency, Malcolm. It has not.

MALCOLM
Why not, do you think?

NED
Because the Mayor is gay and scared shitless out of his panties that it'll blow his cover.

Screen filled with "We are experiencing technical difficulties."

INT. BOARD ROOM. DICK'S LAW OFFICE. DAY

Ned in the hotseat again. Similar expressions on faces.

NED
You can't tell me what to say when I'm speaking for myself.

BRUCE
Everyone knows you're one of us!
It is totally and politically incorrect to call people gay who do not self-identify as being gay.

NED
I know it's been that way forever.
But something different is going on now. We're dying. I don't want to die because another gay man is too ashamed of himself to help us stay alive. I am not going to let him kill us because he's ashamed of what I'm proudest of.

(to Dick)
The Mayor -- he's your personal friend. You want him to appoint you a judge. Do you have a little conflict of interest going on here?

DICK
I told you. I sent him a memo.

NED
When?

DICK
Through channels.

NED
When!

DICK
He'll answer me.

NED
When! There were 300 new cases last month! No meeting with our gay Mayor. No meeting with his gay assistant.

He looks at Bruce who has his head down between his legs.

NED (CONT'D)
Do I embarrass you?

BRUCE
Yes, you do.

TOMMY
You get more with honey than with vinegar.

NED
I've never heard that one, Tommy.

MICKEY
No, obviously you haven't.

TOMMY
I never believed it anyway.

BRUCE
If we get too political we lose our tax-exempt status. That's what Harvey in your own brother's law firm advised us. We got more than we can handle just trying to help patients.
(to Tommy)
Give your report.

TOMMY
(consulting notes)
We've trained 25 crisis counselors to help the newly diagnosed in whatever needs they might have. We have twelve group leaders who meet with these counselors at least once a week to go over all their clients. There are now 17 volunteer social workers, psychologists and/or psychiatrists. I can call on fifteen lawyers. We helped draw up 75 wills last month...

NED
75! Bruce, you were a fighter once. Did you like being a Green Beret?

BRUCE
I loved it.

NED
Have you completely forgotten how to fight?

BRUCE
Don't you fucking talk to me about fighting! I just fight different from you!

NED
I haven't seen your way yet. Bruce -- Albert may be dying.

BRUCE
Shut up! Just you shut up about Albert!

NED
(to Dick)
And you have no right being on this board unless you pressure your friend, the Mayor. That's why I asked you to join us in the first place. And you know it.

INT. SUBWAY. DAY
An older man, Arthur, stops Ned.

NED
Arthur, how are --

ARTHUR
I think what you're doing is awful.

NED
What am I doing, Arthur?

ARTHUR
You're destroying all our progress. You're painting us as sick. It's not going to happen to me -- do you hear me? It's not going to happen to me or to most of us and you should keep your mouth shut! You're destroying homosexuality forever!

EXT. BACK ROAD. GREENWICH. DAY
Ben and Ned are jogging. We hear:

BEN (V.O.)
No. You got your free legal work from my firm.

INT. BEN'S HOUSE. DAY
Ben and Ned are finishing dressing after their jog.

BEN
I'm not going to be on your board of directors, too.

NED
It's only for the stationery. You don't have to do a thing. That is just an evasion. If you thought this was a straight disease --

BEN
It has nothing to do with your being gay.

NED
What else has it got to do with?
One of these days I'm going to make you agree that over twenty million men and women don't require the services of a psychiatrist.

BEN
Look, try to understand. I read stuff. I see TV. You guys in leather and chains, dresses, high heels -- and I say to myself, "This isn't Ned."

NED
You know the media always dramatizes the most extreme.

BEN
You guys have a dreadful image problem.

NED
That's why it's so important to have people like you supporting us.
You already have your dignity.

BEN
We better get to lunch. I have an important meeting.

NED
Do you? How important? I've asked for your support.

BEN
In every area I consider important you have my support.

NED
In the only area I consider important I don't have your support at all. In some place deep inside of you you still think I'm sick.

(MORE)
I think you've adjusted to life quite well.

All things considered?

I saw how unhappy you were!

So were you! You wound up going to shrinks too. We grew up side by side. We both felt the same about Mom and Pop. I'll agree to the fact that I have any number of awful character traits, but not to the fact that whatever awful things they did to us made me sick and gay while you stayed straight and "healthy."

But we don't all react the same way to the thing.

So you became a lawyer and I became a writer.

Well, that's the difference of opinion we have over theory.

But your theory turns me into a man from Mars. My theory doesn't do that to you.

Are you suggesting I did anything wrong sending you into therapy so young? I didn't think you'd stay in it forever.

I didn't think I'd done anything wrong until you sent me into it. Ben, you mean more to me than anyone in the world. You always have. Ben, you've got to say it.
BEN Say what?

NED
I'm the same as you. Just say it.
Say it!

BEN
No, you're not. I can't say it.

NED
Every time I lose this fight it hurts more. I'm going home.

BEN
Come on, Lemon. I still love you.
Sara still loves you. Sara's cat...

NED
This is not a joke!

BEN
(angry)
You have my love and my legal advice and my financial supervision. I can't give you the courage to stand up and say to me that you don't give a flying fuck what I think. Everybody is oppressed by somebody else in some form or another. Some of us learn to fight back despite the opinions, without the help of others. And please stop trying to wring some admission guilt out of me. My agreeing you were born just like I was born is not going to save your dying friends.

NED
That's exactly what will save my dying friends!

BEN
You make me sound like I'm the enemy.

NED
I'm beginning to think you and your straight world are our enemy. I am furious with you and every goddamned doctor who made me feel it's sick to love a man.
(MORE)
I'm trying to understand why nobody gives a shit we're dying. Three million dollars for a house! We can't even get twenty-nine cents from the city. I know 43 guys who've died and you say it's my cause not yours. You still think I'm sick. I simply cannot allow that for one single second longer. I will not speak to you again until you accept me as your equal. Your healthy equal. Your brother.

EXT. BEN'S HOUSE. DAY

Ben watches as Ned roars away in his car.

EXT. FIRST GMHC OFFICE. DAY

A nondescript rooming-house. Bella and Bruce are moving in furniture and aging office equipment. Tommy is supervising.

TOMMY
Be careful, boys, it's a precious antique. Should we put it in the Grand Salon?

BELLA
Have we got a basement? That's where it should go.

TOMMY
Bella, it's about time you moved your filthy mouth above ground. Shove it all in there somehow, I'll decorate later.

WOMAN'S VOICE
(timid) Excuse me?

Tommy turns to see a PLAIN WOMAN in her 30s.

ESTELLE
Hi, my name is Estelle. And my best friend Harvey died last night. We went everywhere together, you know? Like Broadway and the Rockettes and ice skating... he was a beautiful skater. I'm a klutz, but he didn't care.

She starts to cry.
ESTELLE (CONT’D)
We were like partners in crime. We had so much fun! I want to do something even though all my lesbian friends say what have you guys ever done for us? But I don't care. This is for Harvey. Please...tell me you can use me for something!

Tommy is crying now too. He takes her in his arms.

TOMMY
I need a hotline director. Do you think you could do that?

ESTELLE
I don't know how!

TOMMY
Me neither. C'mon, let me buy you a coffee and we'll figure it out.

They walk off together. While --

INT. FIRST GMHC OFFICE. DAY

TWO GUYS man a TV camera to film a room into which lots of second hand furniture doesn't fit. Bruce comes in, they film him.

BRUCE
What are you doing?

TV ONE
We're from the NBC affiliate.

BRUCE So?

TV ONE
This is the new Gay Mens' Health Crisis Office?

BRUCE
Please turn that off and leave.

TV ONE
Who are you?

BRUCE
Bruce Niles, I'm the President, I didn't sign any consent form for you to film me. Turn it off!

Ned enters carrying Time and Newsweek "gay" covers. Camera rushes to film this. Bruce gets the picture.

NED
Both of them the same week! Every major network! And now, finally our first office! Bruce, thoughts?

BRUCE
I told you to turn that off. Sir, please turn it off.

Bruce tries to stop the filming. He goes at the cameraman, pulls at the camera, he's furious and feels violated.

CAMERAMAN
Do not touch me! Do not touch my camera!

NED
I'd like to introduce our gay President who is in the closet. And he's so handsome, don't you think? Such a very handsome cover boy going to waste.

BRUCE
Gay, gay, gay, gay -- everything with you is gay!

Bruce pushes him, Ned is shocked, then pushes back.

NED
Oh great, now you fight. Great! Fight Bruce!

BRUCE
You make me sound like a fucking coward. I'm sick of it. You -- you don't have anything to lose! Your brother invested for you so you have income. So you can be gay 24/7! But most of us can't, I can't! So fuck you, Ned.

NED
Fuck you, Bruce!

More shoving, more alpha posturing. It gets heated, pushing and in each other's faces. Bruce starts to circle him.
BRUCE
What is your problem, Ned? I'm making Tommy executive director, he's worked in hospitals. We held a fundraiser to help pay him! I keep my eye on everything, keep us fiscally responsible! Follow the tax shit your brother's firm warned us about. I am in my office and available to talk to anyone, quietly. But I am not going on national TV, I'm not destroying everything I've built my life on.

Bruce takes a beat, breathing heavily, then stops and addresses the camera guys.

BRUCE (CONT'D)
Give me that goddamned film. Give it to me.

NED
Bruce, I look at you and I'm filled with despair. I look at you and I worry we're not going to win. This is ass backwards. How do you think this country was founded? I thought I was starting with Paul Revere....not some coward!

Bruce has had it. He charges, knocking Ned over a couch and onto the ground. Bruce gets on top of Ned, holds him down.

BRUCE
Look at me.
(takes his face in hands)
LOOK AT ME! We're doomed doing it your way.

Ned stops fighting and looks at him with emotion.

NED
How can they help us if they don't know who we are?

BRUCE
They won't help us if they do.

Bruce stands. Takes a beat. Realizes this was all still filmed. He goes to the camera guys, who have now seen what he can do physically. They are afraid of him. He takes the camera, calmly walks to window, opens the window, throws out the camera. The camera guys race out the door and down the stairs to get it.

Tommy walks in with Estelle, looks at the almost comically heavy breathing guys, the turned over furniture. The phone is ringing. He gets excited, answers it.

TOMMY
You are our very first call, how can I help you?
(beat)
Sorry, you have the wrong number.

EXT. COUNTRYSIDE. DAY

Ned and Felix driving along, with Sam.

EXT. A SHACK IN THE HAMPTONS. DAY

It's on an inlet surrounded on three sides by water. Felix sees the possibilities, Ned doesn't.

FELIX
We have four hands and two incomes.
You're not getting any younger you know.

NED
Please leave my age out of it.

Felix begins to unload suitcases from the trunk and take them to the house. Ned reluctantly follows suit.

INT. HAMPTONS SHACK. NIGHT

Ned and Felix lying on a mattress, watching a movie. Ice cream is being consumed, Sam trying to get her share.

FELIX
Very beautiful, the country.

NED
Very quiet, the country.

The phone rings. As Ned pounces on it --

FELIX
You didn't leave this number on your machine? You promised!

NED
(on the phone)
Yes, I do think we should picket the Mayor. Yes, I said that and stand by that. Thank you.
He hangs up, the phone rings again. Felix picks it up this time. He reaches for a copy of The Native.

FELIX
Wait. "And every gay man who is unable to come forward and fight to save his own life is truly helping to kill the rest of us. How many of us have to die before you get scared off your ass and into action?" Thank you.

NED
Who was that?

FELIX
I hear it's being called the Ned Weeks School of Outrage. I did speak to one of our science reporters.

NED
What did he say?

FELIX
It turns out he's gay and won't... Don't yell at me! All those shrinks -- they must have done something right.

NED
(A kiss with each name, as he starts to undress him.)
Dr. Ritvo, Dr. Malev, Dr. Gillespie, Dr. Greenacre, Dr. Patti, Dr. Maxine, Dr. Laverne -- did it have to take so long?

Felix evades his going further and Ned returns to eating ice cream.

FELIX
All you ever eat is desserts.

NED
Sugar is the most important thing in life. All the rest is just to stay alive.

He is quiet for a long beat.

FELIX What?
NED
That fucking board. They say I'm creating a panic. I'm making myself into a celebrity. Not one of them will be interviewed or appear on TV so I do it all by default.

FELIX
And you're becoming a leader. And you love to fight.

NED
I love to fight. Moi?

FELIX
And you're having a great time.

NED
Yes, I am. It's funny. I didn't want to become a leader. The gay man who could unite us. I'm not doing very well.

FELIX
It's sad how much time we lost.

NED
Felix, we just weren't ready then. If I had it, would you leave me?

FELIX
I don't know. Would you if I did?

NED
No.

FELIX
How do you know?

NED
My mother ran the local chapter of the Red Cross. She put me to work on the Bloodmobile when I was eight. I'm not programmed any other way.

FELIX
Ned, I have something to tell you.

NED
You're finally pregnant.

FELIX
I was married once.
NED
You never told me that.

FELIX
I thought I was programmed to be straight. She said I'd been unfair to her, which I had been. I have a son.

NED
You have a son?

FELIX
She won't let me see him.

NED
You can't see your own son? But didn't you fight? That means you're ashamed. So he will be, too.

FELIX
That's why I didn't tell you! Who says I didn't fight? Ned -- what happens to people who can't be as strong as you want them to be?

NED
Weakness scares the shit out of me. My father was weak and I'm afraid I'll be like him. His life didn't stand for anything and then it was over. So I fight. Constantly. And if I can do it, I can't understand why everybody else can't do it, too. Okay?

Felix gets up and goes out of the room.

NED (CONT'D)
Where are you going?

Ned looks in various parts of the house.

NED (CONT'D)
Hey, you okay? I didn't mean anything... Felix? I'm really scared of lots of things. Really. Heights! I never told you. I'm terrified of heights. I can't go above the third floor or I go bananas. I start to sweat and I get chills and the shakes and... I get really scared...
Finally he finds Felix sitting on the floor, somewhere in a corner. He looks up at Ned. He takes his sock off. He shows Ned a purple spot.

FELIX
It keeps getting bigger and bigger, and it doesn't go away.

As Ned just stares --

INT. EMMA'S APARTMENT. DAY

Some Chinese food laid out. CLOSEUPS: The furniture and appliances made low for her. Emma wheels from the kitchen into the living dining area with plates.

NED
Where's your cat?

EMMA
Under my bed. She's afraid of you. Felix? Who may I ask is Felix?

NED
I've never been so much in love in my life. I've never been in love in my life. Maybe it isn't it. Maybe it's some sort of something else. It could be, couldn't it? There's so much death around.

EMMA
Tell him to come to me first thing tomorrow. 7:30. Ned, goddamn it!

NED
What are we supposed to do -- be with nobody ever?! It's not as easy as you might think! Oh, Emma, I'm sorry.

EMMA
Don't be. Polio was a virus, too.

NED
(delicately)
How'd you get it?

With no sentiment at all as they begin to eat --

EMMA
I was five-years-old. A woman from the Bahamas came to our town carrying the Polio virus. (MORE)
She stayed with friends. Their kid was in my kindergarten class. Four of us in that class got polio. I was all dressed up in my Halloween costume to go trick-or-treating and my mother felt my forehead and put me to bed. In the middle of the night I realized my whole body except my arms and hands was paralyzed. I kept crying out to my mother "I can't move, I can't move."

Ned is getting very emotional, but Emma isn't.

EMMA (CONT'D)
They rushed me to the hospital and said I'd be dead in 24 hours. I fought, I lived.

NED
Were you in an iron lung?

EMMA
I was.

CUT TO:

Emma showing Ned photographs in her scrapbook.

EMMA (CONT'D)
Then I was in bed at home. I was connected to my classroom by a little loudspeaker. All the kids would be required to come and visit me. We'd say hello and then not know what to say next. They were terrified of me. Still are. I scare the shit out of people. The holy terror in the wheelchair.

NED
I'm scaring people, too.

EMMA
Learn how to use it! Don't need everybody's love and approval!

She starts to clear the plates and the cartons, he helps her.

EMMA (CONT’D)
Ned, your organization is worthless. Before a vaccine is discovered, almost every gay man will have been exposed. I’ve seen over 300 cases -- me; one doctor.

NED
I can’t get anyone important on our board. Guys who’ve made millions out of us...fashion, rock, movies, real estate, forget it. And every time Bruce doesn’t agree with me he puts it to a board vote.

EMMA
And you lose.

NED
They won’t print what I write! No passing along any sex recommendations, any information that isn’t 100% certain.

EMMA
Nothing is 100% certain in science, so you won’t be saying anything.

NED
Don’t yell at me for what I’m not doing! What the fuck is your side doing? Where’s your AMA?

(eying the pastries she’s laid out)
Do you think that being Jewish makes you always hungry?

EMMA
I don’t know. I’m not Jewish. I’m German.

NED
Everyone thinks you’re Jewish.

EMMA
I know. In medicine that helps.

NED
You had to stay in bed all the way through school?

EMMA
I graduated college first in my class. Medical school, too.

(MORE)

EMMA (CONT'D)
By college I had my first braces and I could walk a little. I don't walk so good anymore but that's because I'm too busy to practice.

NED
You must practice! Right now! Come on, right now. No, I mean it. Come on.

He goes to the little stereo and puts on a record.

NED (CONT'D)
May I have this dance?

EMMA
Okay, you asked for it.

Shots of Emma getting her braces and starting to strap them on. She has trouble reaching and Ned comes to help her, placing them into even more intimate contact.

EMMA (CONT'D)
Get my crutches. The corner.

He gives Emma the crutches. She pulls herself up and out of the wheelchair. She hobbles forward clumsily, putting her feet in front of each other more or less satisfactorily. But then she makes a misstep and tries to get her balance. She cannot and falls into his arms. The intimacy of this moment is thrilling to Ned, to both of them. They dance.

NED
I'm afraid to leave him alone now.
I'm afraid the cure won't come in time. I'm afraid of my anger. I'm a terrible leader and a useless lover and...

EMMA
And a lousy dancer. Put me back.

Ned holds on to her very tightly. She embraces him back tightly too.

EMMA (CONT'D)
Polio was a virus, too. Nobody gets polio anymore.

He kisses her, grabs his coat, leaves. She looks after him.
She's alone. Her cat jumps into her lap.
1984

EXT. SUBWAY. DAY

A dark gloomy winter day. We are ON THE BACK of a person in a baggy black coat. We follow him down the stairs and into...

INT. SUBWAY CAR. DAY

...as the doors close. The subway car starts moving. CAMERA comes around to reveal it's Felix, now shockingly twenty pounds thinner, swallowed up in his black fashionable coat. He holds a pole, notices --

A MAN WITH AIDS, sitting alone. The man is Auschwitz thin and has Kaposi lesions on his face. He is clearly at the end. Felix just stares at him, at the death skull, terrified this is going to be his fate.

INT. UNDERGROUND ROOM. CITY HALL. DAY (PHASE 1)

Ned paces back and forth, angry. He, Bruce, Mickey, Morton are like caged animals, looking at their watches.

NED
Where is he? I mean we've been here for an hour and a half. Who are these people? We're in a fucking dungeon here. He can't do this to us! HE CANNOT DO THIS TO US AND GET AWAY WITH IT!

He paces and paces. Tommy rushes in.

TOMMY

BRUCE
Hi.

TOMMY
Jesus Christ what a tomb. Do they not want us to be seen above ground? Where is he? I'm an hour late.

NED
An hour and a half.

TOMMY
Don't start on me, lambchop.

BRUCE
Tommy where were you?

TOMMY
I was up at Bellevue. I had to put a sweet dying child together with his momma. They hadn't seen each other for 15 years and he'd never told her he was gay. He didn't wanna see her. He refused to see her for weeks. Oh he was angry when I waltzed in with her and... It was a real weeper, Momma holding her son. He's dead now.
Hiram Keebler, the Mayor's gay assistant, comes in.

HIRAM
I'm truly sorry I'm late. I'm Hiram Keebler.

TOMMY
Hello. Are you related to the folks who make the crackers? I'm kidding. I'm Tommy Boatwright.

NED
Ned Weeks.

BRUCE
Bruce Niles. I'm the President.

HIRAM
The Mayor wants you to know how much he cares and how impressed he is with how you're shouldering your own responsibilities.

BRUCE
Thank you.

HIRAM
The Mayor wants you to know how much he cares and how impressed he is with how you're shouldering your own responsibilities.

BRUCE
Thank you.

HIRAM
Whoa. That's illegal discrimination.

TOMMY
Yeah we know that to be true, sir.

MICKEY
Mr. Keebler, it is not illegal to discriminate against homosexuals.

NED
We have been trying for 14 months to see the Mayor. It's taken us a year to get this meeting with you. You're an hour and a half late. Have you told the Mayor there's an epidemic going on?

HIRAM Says who?

TOMMY
The government.

HIRAM
Which government? What our government? An epidemic?

MICKEY
The Centers for Disease Control declared it.

TOMMY
Seventeen months ago.

NED
You can't not know this!

HIRAM
Could you please reduce your level of hysteria?

NED
Certainly. New York City. San Francisco. Los Angeles. Chicago. Boston. Denver... Every single major American city now is showing cases. At least twenty-five foreign countries. But New York City, our home, the city you have pledged to protect, has more than half of everything, half the cases, half the dead. I know 57 of the dead ones. I don't want to know any more! Now. When do we get to see the Mayor? Fourteen months is a long time to be out to lunch.
HIRAM
You wait a minute!

NED
No, you wait a minute! We can't. Time is not on our side. Now if you won't take word to the Mayor, what are we gonna do? Hire a hunky hustler and send him up to Gracie Mansion with a plea tattooed to his cock?

HIRAM
Mayor Koch is not gay!

TOMMY
Oh, come on, Blanche!

HIRAM
(confidentially)
Listen, don't you think I want to help you? I have a friend who is dying of this shit right now in the VA Hospital. But it's very tricky. You can see that. It is very tricky.

NED
Tricky, shit! There are a million gay people in New York. A million and one, counting you.

HIRAM
You know what? A fire goes out in a school furnace on the West Side, I get 3000 calls. In one day. You know what I mean? If so many of you are so upset, why do I only hear from this loudmouth?

NED
That's a very good question.

HIRAM
Okay, so there are half a million gay men in our area. 315 cases doesn't seem too high, considering how many of us -- I mean of you -- there are.

NED
This is bullshit.

BRUCE
Ned! Please. Look, I understand this is tricky, sir, but we need your help.
HIRAM (leaving)
I think, that is the Mayor thinks, you guys are overreacting.

NED
(physically pulling him back)
You tell that cocksucker he is a selfish, heartless, son of a bitch!

HIRAM (To Mickey)
You are Michael R. Marcus. You hold an unsecured job with the city's Department of Health. I'd watch out for your friends if I were you.

As he's exiting, Ned throws his files at him. Stunned silence.

MICKEY
I don't believe that just happened.

NED
Mickey, I am going on the Today Show tomorrow and I am telling them that the Mayor just threatened your job to shut us up.

MICKEY
The Today Show! You're gonna what?!

Mickey, Morton, then Bruce go out quickly.

NED
They are treating us like shit! And we're allowing them! You know politicians. The only thing they respond to is pressure! You heard him and his 3000 West Side calls. We're not yelling loud enough!

Bruce comes back and pulls Tommy...

BRUCE
Get your stuff. Get your stuff.

Ned is left alone in the room.

A77 INT. BLACKNESS. DAY

Hear a PHONE RINGING. Two rings. Tommy answers it.

This is Tommy.

Tommy, it's Ned. Nick died.

COME UP to reveal...

INT. TOMMY'S OFFICE. DAY

Tommy sits at his desk.

TOMMY

Shit. Goddamn.

NED'S VOICE

I'll call later when I know more about the memorial.

Ned hangs up. Tommy sits there in shock for a bit, then starts going through a ROLODEX.

EXT. FUNERAL PARLOR. DAY

Men in black, some carrying umbrellas, go up the steps.

TOMMY'S VOICE

I have this tradition...it's something I do now when a friend dies.

INT. TOMMY'S OFFICE. DAY

Tommy pulls out a Rolodex card with Nick's name on it. He stares at it with emotion.

TOMMY'S VOICE

I save his Rolodex card. What am I supposed to do, throw them away in the trashcan?

INT. FUNERAL PARLOR. DAY

NICK is dead in a casket. Tommy speaks to a room of MEN.

TOMMY

I won't do that. No, I won't. That's too final. A year ago I had five cards. Now I have fifty, a collection of cardboard tombstones bound together with a rubberband. I hate these fucking funerals, I really do. And you know what else I hate? The memorials.

(MORE)
D77 CONTINUED:

TOMMY (CONT'D)
That's our social life now, going to these things, and everybody's trying to outdo everybody else. We don't celebrate life anymore because what's the point? Everyone's on borrowed time. We've become more comfortable with death, sad to say. No hopes and dreams to be dashed with that.

E77 OMITTED

F77 INT. FUNERAL PARLOR. DAY

Tommy pauses.

TOMMY
Nick was a choreographer, I don't know how many of you know that, he was just starting out, he didn't tell a lot of people, he was waiting to invite you all to his debut at Carnegie Hall or some shit so we could be proud of him.

(breaking)
But he was so good. He had such promise.

(then)
We are losing an entire generation. Young men at the beginning, just gone. Choreographers, playwrights, dancers, actors. All those plays that won't get written now. All those dances never to be danced.

A beat, he looks over at the body in the open casket.

TOMMY (CONT'D)
Nick, last year you sent me anonymous flowers on Valentine's Day because you knew I didn't have a Valentine. I knew you were the Secret Admirer, but I didn't let on. I wish now I had hugged you and said thank you. It got me through the day.

Everyone is crying now.
TOMMY (CONT’D)
In closing, I’m just gonna say I'm mad. I'm fucking mad. I keep screaming inside why are they letting us die? Why is no one helping us? And here's the truth, here's the answer -- they just don't like us.

He sits down next to Ned. Silence.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. NIGHT

Ned enters, exhausted from the fight. As he puts his keys on a table and heads toward the bedroom --

NED'S VOICE
Once upon a time there was a little boy who always wanted to love another little boy. All his life that's all he wanted.

INT. NED'S BEDROOM. NIGHT

Ned enters and stops. We see what he sees: Felix has lost control of his bowels in the bed, the white duvet is stained with shit. A trail of diarrhea heads to the bathroom.

NED'S VOICE
One day he finally found that love, and it was wonderful.

INT. BATHROOM. NIGHT

Ned runs in, Felix is half sitting on the toilet still shitting and half vomiting into the sink. Ned grabs him before he falls over.

NED'S VOICE
I'm supposed to use gloves. I'm supposed to do this. I'm supposed to do that. I'm supposed to not kiss him.

Ned leans Felix into his body, grabs some toilet tissue, wipes Felix's ass. He then grabs a washcloth and wipes Felix's face.

NED'S VOICE (CONT’D)
I'm not supposed to be only 45 years old and taking care of a 35-year-old young man who's 100 years old and dying.

Clean up done, Ned tenderly kisses the top of Felix's head and hauls him to a standing position and walks him back to bed.

Ned has put clean sheets on the bed, Felix is in the bed, facing away from Ned as he cleans up the diarrhea on the floor. Sam the dog watches quietly from a corner and Ned scrubs, on his hands and knees.

NED'S VOICE
Emma calls it a seesaw. He's fine, he gets sick, he gets better, he gets sicker.

INT. LIVING ROOM. NIGHT

Ned and Felix (in his pajamas) watch an old movie as they pet Sam. Felix turns to silently look at Ned.

NED'S VOICE
He's afraid I'll leave him. I told him I wouldn't leave him. That I never for one second think of leaving him. But he doesn't believe me.

Felix suddenly stands and heads for the bathroom. Ned sees he's had an accident in his pajama bottoms.

It's hard to believe in much these days. But we must never stop believing in each other.

INT. SHOWER. NIGHT

Ned is giving Felix a shower, Felix holding onto a bar installed for this. We see now the wreck and tragedy that is his body, from head to toe, as Ned with a hand shower cleans him off. Felix starts to sob, he is so helpless.

INT. LAUNDRY ROOM IN APARTMENT BASEMENT. NIGHT

Ned puts Felix's shit-stained pajamas in the laundry machine, feeds the quarters. He suddenly breaks, starts to cry, months of pain exploding out of him.

NED'S VOICE
I'm a mess. That's what I am. You cry and you cry until you think you can't cry anymore and then you cry some more.

INT. NED'S BEDROOM. NIGHT

Ned crawls into bed and holds a sleeping Felix.

NED'S VOICE
Not only for yourself and Felix but for all the little boys who finally found their other little boys they've wanted all their lives, now that we're men.

INT. EMMA'S EXAMINING ROOM. DAY
Felix stands in an examining gown. He looks very vulnerable and heartbreaking. Emma examines him.

FELIX
I'm going to beat it.
I've always been lucky.

EMMA
Good. That's the right attitude.

FELIX
I wanted a job on the Times, I got it. I wanted Ned... Have I given it to Ned?

EMMA
I don't know.

She opens the back of the gown, sees his back is covered with the KS lesions now. She's rattled, heartbroken, but moves forward with the exam.

FELIX
Can he catch it from me now?
Did he give it to me?

EMMA
One person has a cold, hepatitis, sometimes the partner catches it, sometimes not.

FELIX
Some doctors are saying it's okay if we use condoms.

EMMA
I know they are.

FELIX
Can we kiss?
EMMA
Felix, you have nothing to fight back with. You have no immune system to speak of. Your body is now open to every conceivable kind of infection. You must be careful. I'm going to do my damnest. So must you.

FELIX
I bet you say that to all the boys.

EMMA
As a matter of fact, I do.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. NIGHT

NED
No way. There will be absolutely no argument or discussion on this matter. None. N-O-N-E. I promise you I'm going to tie the Mayor up until he calls the President and screams Help. We're going to live to be grumpy old men! Now promise me you won't do this again.

INT. MEETING ROOM. HEALTH DEPARTMENT. DAY
Another big tacky shabby office. Commissioner Sencer, a burned out case, sits facing an audience of a dozen or so scattered attendees. Mickey sits beside him, embarrassed to be here. A few familiar faces -- Buzzy, Morton, busy making notes, Bruce...Ned is sitting bored out of his mind, with his eyes closed.

COMMISSIONER
I have been assured by the Centers for Disease Control that this has not and most likely will not enter the General Population...isn't that right, Marcus?

MICKEY
Yes sir. That's what you said they said, sir.

Ned's eyes open and he will now go ballistic. He grabs a newspaper out of his attaché case.

Whoa! Wait a minute, Commissioner Dr. Sencer, if you please. You have just uttered one fat fucking lie. And what's more you know it! I hold up evidence to present to this stupid useless Inter-Agency Task Force the Mayor has called into being to show the city that he is doing something, this copy of the London Observer newspaper which has the following headline, and I quote, "One out of every four new cases is now occurring in a heterosexual."

He runs through the aisles shoving the Observer in front of everyone's faces.

See! One out of four. Straight people. Men and women who fuck with each other. Heterosexuals... Infecting each other. Commissioner Sencer, have you talked to your friends in London? In Washington? Isn't there some oath you swear in medical school? To honesty, to truth?

He rams the paper into Sencer's face and leaves. After he's gone a second, he comes back in and literally pulls Lee and Buzzy out by their clothes. Morton pushes him away, staring at him as if he's staring at a crazy man.

Don't you stay here listening to this shit one more minute! Come on! Get up off your asses! Get!

Stop it, just stop it!

Ned is startled, gathers himself. He realizes his guys aren't following him.

By the way, Doc. I like to think I am part of the General Population. A lot of us do. Don't we, Mick? You might want to make a note of that.
INT. FIRST GMHC OFFICE. DAY (PHASE 1)

A madhouse. Everyone on never-stopping-ringing phones. Tommy with a couple more -- Grady and Lenny, two young volunteers. Estelle and her older friend Gloria.

ESTELLE
Estelle speaking. How may I assist you?
(to the room)
Someone needs a will.

MICKEY
Another will!

TOMMY
Give him this number.

Bruce comes in from the street in a suit, with attaché case.

GRADY
(picking up ringing phone)
GMHC.

LENNY GMHC.

GRADY
I only joined to find a boyfriend.

TOMMY
Good luck.

GLORIA
(to Tommy)
I know just the boy for you.

TOMMY
Boy? I want a man!

ESTELLE
Tommy, I think I got us maybe four qualified social workers to volunteer. They're all lesbians.

(CONTINUED)
TOMMY
Thank God for the lesbians.

Mickey is going nuts on the phones.

MICKEY
Your anus? Oh the planet Uranus. Thank you for sharing.

BRUCE
Mickey, why aren't you in Rio?

PHIL
I put the phones on service. You guys should get some rest. We don't want any burnout.

TOMMY Goodnight, Phil. Thanks.
(Phil leaves)
Phil got diagnosed today.

Silence. Then --

BRUCE
Mickey, why aren't you on vacation in Rio?

MICKEY
I was in Rio. Gregory and I, we just got there, day before yesterday, I get a phone call, from Hiram's office, I'm told to be in his office, right away, this morning --

BRUCE
From Rio? What kind of meeting?

MICKEY
I get to City Hall, Hiram keeps me waiting forever, finally the Commissioner comes out and says Hiram doesn't want to see me anymore. I wanted to scream "I haven't slept in two days, you dumb fuck!" but I didn't. Instead I said, "Please sir, then why did he make me come all the way back from Rio?" He says, "I'm afraid he didn't take me into his confidence," and he walks away.
(waving a copy of the Native)
(MORE)
Ned's article attacking Hiram just came out!

Ned is seen having entered, standing on the side, listening.

NED
What about it, Mick?

MICKEY
You keep trying to get us to say things we don't want to say! And I don't think we can afford to make so many enemies before we have enough friends.

NED
We'll never have enough friends.

MICKEY
We can't like magic all turn into nuns!

NED
Terry Spalding is calling all his friends from under his oxygen tent to say goodbye. Tibby Maurer took an overdose. Hal Schecter has stumps for feet. Frannie Santuzza has lost his mind.

MICKEY STOP IT!

TOMMY
Mickey, are you all right?

MICKEY
I don't think so. Why can't they find the virus?

TOMMY
It takes time.

MICKEY
I work all day for the city writing stuff on breastfeeding versus formula and how to stay calm when you have herpes and I work all night on our newsletter and my health column for the Native and I can't take it anymore. I've written about every single theory. Repeated infection by a virus. New appearance by a dormant virus. (MORE)

MICKEY (CONT'D)
Multi-virus. Partial virus.
Latent virus. Mutant virus. Retro virus.

TOMMY
Take it easy, honey.

MICKEY
And we mustn't forget fucking, sucking, kissing, blood, voodoo, drugs, poppers, needles, Africa,
Haiti, Cuba, blacks, amoebas, pigs, mosquitoes, monkeys -- what if it isn't any of them!

TOMMY
I don't know.

MICKEY
The Great Plague of London was caused by drinking water from a pump nobody noticed. Maybe it's predisposition or the theory of the herd -- only so many of us will get it and then the pool's used up.
What if it's monogamy? Bruce, you and I could actually be worse off because of constant bombardment from a single source -- our lovers!
Maybe guys who go to the baths regularly have built up the best immunity. I don't know what to tell anybody. And everybody asks me! I don't know -- who's right? I don't know -- who's wrong? I feel so inadequate. How can we tell people to stop when it might be caused by
-- I DON'T KNOW!

BRUCE
That's exactly how I feel.

MICKEY
But maybe he's right! And that scares me, too. Neddie -- you scare me! Do you think the President really wants this to happen? Do you think the CIA really has unleashed germ warfare to kill off all the queers Jerry Falwell doesn't want?

NED
Mickey, try and hold on.

MICKEY
To what? I used to love my country. The Native received an anonymous letter describing top-secret Defense Department experiments at Fort Detrick, Maryland, that have produced a virus that can destroy the immune system. Its code name is Firm Hand. They started testing it in 1978 -- on a group of gays. I never used to believe shit like this. They are going to persecute us! Cancel our health insurance. Quarantine us, put us in camps. And you think I am killing people!

NED
That is not what I said!

MICKEY
You did, you did, I know you did! I've spent fifteen years of my life fighting for our right to be free and make love wherever, whenever... and you're telling me that all those years of what being gay stood for is wrong -- and I'm a murderer. We have been so lonely and oppressed! Don't you remember? I don't think Ned likes himself very much! Can't you see how important it is for us to love openly, without hiding, without guilt? Can't you see that? Can't you? I went to the top of the Empire State Building...

TOMMY
I'm taking you home.

MICKEY
You can jump off when no one is looking.

TOMMY
Let's go home.

MICKEY
Ned, I'm not a murderer. All my life I've been hated. For being gay. For being short. For being Jewish.

(MORE)
Mickey lunges furiously for Ned, only to be caught in time by Tommy and Bruce.

TOMMY
I'm taking you home.

MICKEY
Take me to St. Vincent's. I don't want to go home.

TOMMY
We're all real tired. We got ourselves a lot of bereavement overload.
(snatching coats Bruce hands him)
You two best start accommodating each other now, or we're in real trouble.

MICKEY
We're the fighters, aren't we?

TOMMY
You bet, sweetness. And you're a hero. Whether you know it or not. You're our first hero.

Tommy takes Mickey out. Ned and Bruce are alone.

BRUCE
Do you want to be President?

NED
I just want Felix to live.

A phone rings. Finally Ned picks it up.

NED (CONT'D)
Hiram, old buddy, how they hanging? (Listens. Hangs up.)
You ready? The Mayor has found a secret little fund for giving away money secretly. We're not allowed to tell anyone where we got it. If we tell we'll never get anymore.

BRUCE
How much?

NED
Nine thousand dollars.

BRUCE
Ned, Albert is dead.

As Ned just stares at him --

INT. BAR. NIGHT (PHASE 1)

Ned and Bruce at their hangout.

NED
I didn't know he was so close.

BRUCE
He wouldn't tell anyone. I think I loved Albert best of all, and he went so fast. His mother wanted him back in Phoenix before he died, this was last week when it was obvious, so I got permission from Emma -- and took him to the airport.
The plane packed. Bruce and Albert seated together. Albert, under blankets, stares into space. Bruce, nervous and upset, notices that the pilot and the stewardesses are looking at them, talking about them.

BRUCE (V.O.)
The pilot wouldn't take off and I refused to leave the plane. You would have been proud of me.

Another pilot enters, the stewardesses look at Bruce and Albert with disdain.

BRUCE (V.O.)
So finally they get another pilot.

The plane is in flight. Albert tries to stand up, with his seat belt still on. When Bruce tries to keep him seated, Albert starts hitting him. Bruce tries to hold him in an embrace.

BRUCE (V.O.)
Then, after we take off, Albert loses his mind, not recognizing me, not knowing where he is or that he's going home, and he becomes --

Shot of Albert's feet as urine and diarrhea seep down his legs and on to the floor. Vomit is coming out of his mouth. Bruce grabs a bag and pulls out clothes and a towel, anything and everything to mop Albert up and then to wrap him in the blanket. Albert is very uncooperative.

BRUCE
Please, Albert. Please, no more.
Hold it in, man. I beg you, just for us, for Bruce and Albert --
Albert collapses back into his seat, eyes filled with tears. Bruce is stuffing the soiled stuff back into the suitcase. Nearby passengers moving away fast.

BRUCE (V.O.)
And when we get to Phoenix -- there's a police van waiting for us, all the boys dressed up like fucking astronauts --

INT. HOSPITAL ROOM. PHOENIX. DAY

Attempts have been made to make the room cheery. Albert's mother stands watching as the stretcher bearing her son, followed by Bruce, is wheeled in by the attendants, still in their protective masks and clothing.

BRUCE (V.O.)
-- and by the time we get to the hospital, where his mother had fixed up the room real nice --

Shot of Albert.

BRUCE (V.O.)
Albert is dead. The hospital doctors refuse to examine him to put a cause of death on the death certificate. And without a death certificate the undertakers won't take him away. And neither will the police. Finally some orderly comes in and --
INT. BASEMENT CORRIDOR. HOSPITAL. PHOENIX. NIGHT

As Orderly and Bruce stuff Albert in huge Glad Bag.

BRUCE (V.O.)
-- stuffs Albert in a heavy-duty
Glad Bag and he --

EXT. HOSPITAL MAINTENANCE AREA. PHOENIX. NIGHT

Orderly rolls Glad Bag over an edge so it falls right beside the garbage cans and trash waiting for removal.

BRUCE (V.O.)
-- puts him out in the back alley with the garbage.

ORDERLY
Hey, man, I've done you a favor. I got him out. I want fifty bucks.

Bruce, beyond any understanding of anything, pays the guy automatically. Bruce and Albert's mother drag the Glad Bag to a car and heft it into the back seat.

EXT. FUNERAL HOME. DAY

A black undertaker hands Bruce a small box. Bruce hands him a wad of bills, which the Undertaker counts.

UNDERTAKER
One thousand dollars. No questions asked.

INT. BAR. NIGHT (PHASE 1)

Ned takes Bruce's hand from across the table.

BRUCE
Would you and Felix mind if I spent the night on your sofa? Just one night. I don't want to go home.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. NIGHT

Ned is typing furiously. We hear Felix in the bedroom, coughing.

NED (V.O.)
I AM TELLING YOU THEY ARE MURDERING
US AND WE ARE LETTING THEM!

TYPING SOUND continues as Ned goes into the bedroom, feels Felix. He's soaking wet.

"We are going to die and we are going to die very soon unless you get off your fucking asses and fight back!"

Ned and Felix get out of a cab. Emma is there to meet them. Felix is wrapped in a blanket so we hardly see his face.

Flowers already wilting. There are two beds. Ned's stuff is here, too. Ned, lying next to Felix, is feeding him some ice cream. Felix is connected to an IV.

Felix
Have you talked to your brother yet? I'll remember that about you -- that you don't talk to the people you love most in the world. You are a hard, unyielding man, Alexander.
(no answer)
You want me to get better and I'm not getting better and I feel so fucking guilty.

Ned pauses, stands, grabs a pen, takes Felix's fancy leather work calendar. Starts flipping through it.

Ned
You have a lunch meeting with Bill Blass on Friday. Fancy.

Felix
I'll call with my regrets.
(as Ned starts scribbling)
What are you doing?

Ned
Making a date with you. Two months from now. I've been invited to speak at Yale's Gay Week and we are going. Remember, I told you about those dances they have now?
(then)
You're my date.

They both get emotional for a beat. Then Ned gets into bed and holds him.

NED (CONT’D)
I want you to live so much. I'm not supposed to say that.

FELIX
Please God, give us one more year.
I promise I'll eat my spinach.
INT. FELIX'S HOSPITAL ROOM. VERY EARLY MORNING

Ned, in p.j.s, and Felix are asleep in each other's arms. Emma opens the door on her early morning rounds. She looks at them both sleeping.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. DAY

Tommy, carrying suitcases and packages, helps Ned bring Felix back home. Sam goes crazy. Felix is weak but stops to play with Sam.

TOMMY
Estelle made you stuffed cabbage. Come on, Tommy's going to put you back to bed.

Tommy helps Felix to the bedroom. Ned stands alone, watching them, he is slowly becoming undone.

INT. NED'S APARTMENT. NIGHT (LATER)

Ned and Tommy pour over medical literature. Lit only by desk light. Ned vibrates with determination.

NED
There's this new drug in Paris. Kessler's lover just flew over to get it.
(pulls out newsletter)
Here is it. HPA-23.

TOMMY
Ned...he looks awful.

NED
You think this is anything? Or just a shit drug like all the rest.

TOMMY
Ned, I think you have to prepare yourself for letting go.

NED
No. No, no, no! You can't stop fighting for the ones you love. Haven't you ever had to fight for someone you love?

Tommy just looks at him. Then he begins to cry. Ned takes him in his arms.

NED (CONT’D)
You've got to start putting yourself out there so everyone can see what I see.

TOMMY
I measure them all against you. That's the problem. I'm just a hick from Alabama. What the fuck did I know about the big city? You've been my teacher. And what you and Felix have is so beautiful...

NED
You have to find your own Felix. Teacher's orders. And I do love you. You know that, don't you?

TOMMY
Yes.
(pulling himself together)
What kind of fucked up love scene is this?

The phone rings. Ned looks at his watch, picks up the phone.

NED
Yes? Yes ma'am. Yes ma'am, 4:30 tomorrow. Yes ma'am.

He hangs up the phone and let's out a shriek.

NED (CONT’D)
THE FUCKING WHITE HOUSE! FUCK THE MAYOR! I've been summoned to the White House! They're going to do something!

EXT. WASHINGTON. ESTABLISHING SHOT. DAY

EXT. WHITE HOUSE. DAY

Ned at the gate, having his ID checked. He looks up at the place. He strides confidently forward.

INT. OFFICE OF JOHN BRUNO. DAY (PHASE 1)

A sign on his desk "John Bruno, Advisor to the President".

NED
So just so I understand. What exactly does your title mean? In terms of our plague?

BRUNO
We prefer not to use negative terms. It only scares people.

NED
Well there's 3,339 cases so far. 1,122 dead. Sounds like a plague to me. I'm scared. Aren't you? What does what does your title mean again?

BRUNO
I come up with ideas for the President about what he ought to be doing and not doing.

NED
OK good, got it. So the money's there, right? It just hasn't been spent. So there's this new drug in France. Why doesn't the NIH study it? I mean what I want...what we want...what we desperately need is for somebody to help us cut through all this red tape.

BRUNO
I can assure you that not a week goes by that I don't bring new information and reports to the President. The progress that's been made on this disease is unprecedented...

NED
But it's contagious! Can't you see that because it's contagious you have to work faster?

BRUNO
Do you really believe that anybody in a serious public policy position, in their heart of hearts, or even in their most closeted meeting, says to each other "Hey guys, let's not get too upset about this."

NED
Yes. Your boss hasn't said the word AIDS out loud.
BRUNO
(closes door to office)
Answer me one question. Um. This shit, can can hookers get it? Or someone who had a one night stand?

NED
Of course!

BRUNO
You can't prove that.
(MORE)
I mean from what I understand, from what I've read, female to male transmission through normal vaginal intercourse does not seem to be very efficient.

NED
That simply isn't true. It's a virus. It doesn't discriminate.

BRUNO
Yes but it's very difficult isn't it? It's it's almost impossible for a straight you know regular heterosexual guy to get it, am I right?

NED
I'm sorry?

BRUNO
There's no documented cases, am I right? There's not a single documented case of a heterosexual man getting it. Not from fucking or a blow-job...

NED
I don't have that information.

BRUNO
Great, that's what I thought.
(walks to phone on desk)
Susan, call my meeting. I'll be about 15 minutes late. Thanks.
(hands Ned his card)
Thank you so much.

Ned realizes in this moment this is the ONLY reason Bruno is seeing him.

NED Wait.

BRUNO
Call me anytime.

NED
Sir, wait.

And he's out. Ned follows Bruno into the hallway, stunned as he realizes this entire meeting was granted only to soothe a straight man's fears. A beat, he looks at the closed door, where the President sits.

(loudly)
100 million predicted and no one is paying any attention!

SECRETARY
I need security on the second floor.

INT. OLD BELLEVUE HOSPITAL MEDICAL AMPHITHEATER. DAY

A huge, ancient amphitheater used for med school lectures. Emma is finishing a presentation. She faces a group of doctors who sit behind a long table covered with papers. She's been coughing and wheezing and will use a nebulizer to control it. Various slides of impressive and incomprehensible data are flicking on the large screen overhead. The hall is filled with various observers -- staff from the hospital and medical center of course, but also a group of Emma's patients, in various stages of health, sitting up front with Buzzy. Ned sits beaming in the front row with Tommy and Bruce and holding Felix's hand.

EMMA (finishing)
I am taking care of more victims of this disease than anyone in the world. We have more frozen blood samples, more data of every kind, and much more experience. I am confident that all this will yield results.

Emma finishes her remarks, smiles, and nods to the table of doctors. There is wild applause.

CUT TO:

The audience has left. The doctors have not. Buzzy, Ned and Tommy remain.

EXAMINING DOCTOR
(Looking up finally)
Dr. Brookner, the government's position is this. There are five million dollars in the pipeline, for which we've received over 55 million dollars worth of requests.

EMMA
Five million doesn't seem quite right for some two thousand cases. The government spent three million investigating 7 deaths from Tylenol. We are entering the third year...

EXAMINING DOCTOR
Unfortunately President Reagan has threatened to veto. As you know he has gone on record as being unalterably and irrevocably opposed to anything that might be construed as an endorsement of -- homosexuality.

EMMA
It looks like we continue to have a pretty successful stalemate.

EXAMINING DOCTOR
We have voted to reject your application for funding.

EMMA
Oh? I would like to hear your reasons.

EXAMINING DOCTOR
The direction of the research you're suggesting is imprecise and unfocused.

EMMA
Oh, it is, is it? You don't know what's going on any more than I do. Could you tell me precisely why you're blocking my efforts?

EXAMINING DOCTOR
Dr. Brookner, while we pay tribute to you as a pioneer, there are now other investigators. It's no longer just your disease, though you seem to think it is.

EMMA
Oh, I do, do I? And you're here to take it away from me, is that it? Well, I'll let you in on a little secret, Doctor. You can have it. I didn't want it in the first place.

(MORE)
EMMA (CONT'D)
You think it's a privilege to watch young men die? Oh, what am I arguing with you for? You don't know enough to study boiled water. How dare you come and judge me!

EXAMINING DOCTOR
We only serve on this peer review panel at the behest of Dr. Murray.

EMMA
Another idiot. And by the way, a closeted homosexual doing everything in his power to sweep this under the rug. And I vowed I'd never say anything like that in public. How does it always happen that all the idiots are always on your team? How can you not fund my research or invite me to participate in yours? Your National Institutes of Health received my first request for money two years ago. It took you one year just to print up application forms. It's taken you three years from my first reported case just to show up here for a look. The paltry amount of money you are forcing us to beg for, from the four billion dollars you now receive each and every year to protect the health of the American People, won't come to anyone until only God knows when. A promising virus has already been discovered, in France. Why are you refusing to cooperate with the French? Why are we told not to cooperate with the French? Just so you can steal a Nobel Prize? While something is being passed around that causes death! Women have been discovered to have it in Africa -- where it is clearly transmitted heterosexually. It is only a question of time. We could all be dead before you do anything! You want my data?
   (Hurls out files)
You want my ideas?
   (Hurls out more files)
You want my patients? Take them! TAKE THEM! Just do something with them!

(MORE)
You're fucking right I am imprecise and unfocused. And you are all idiots!

She breaks down. Ned and Buzzy race to her.

EMMA (CONT'D)
Don't touch me!

She is sobbing.

EXT. LENOX HILL HOSPITAL. DAY

Pouring rain. TV camera covering Ned and a few others. We see the signs. OUR BACHELOR MAYOR LETS GAY MEN DIE. COME OUT OF THE CLOSET, MAYOR KOCH, AND SAVE YOUR DYING BROTHERS!

INT. NEW (SECOND) GMHC OFFICE. DAY

A raw space, empty. Bruce, Joey, Dan, Morton all here, trying not to look at Ned, who stands alone.

BRUCE
This is perfect for our new offices.

DICK
You organized that picketing of the Mayor?
   (Ned nods)
And those signs?
   (Ned nods)
Your next play is about a First Lady who gave the best blowjobs in Hollywood?
   (Ned nods)

Sounds from outside, down on the street.

EXT. STREET. NEW GMHC OFFICE. DAY

People of all ages, carrying signs KEEP YOUR DISEASE OUT OF OUR NEIGHBORHOOD. COCKSUCKERS DESERVE TO DIE. I THANK THE LORD EVERY TIME HE KILLS ONE OF YOU. I HOPE THEY NEVER FIND A CURE. GOD LOVES YOU. KILL A QUEER FOR CHRIST TODAY. Tommy comes hurrying toward the building. One of the picketers tries to prevent him entering. Tommy hauls off and decks him.

INT. NEW GMHC OFFICE. DAY

As Tommy enters.
NED
The Mayor has 4 more hours before we carry out our threat of civil disobedience if he doesn't meet with us. Don't worry, a bunch of us are doing this on our own.

BRUCE
Tommy got the call.

NED
Why didn't you tell me? You see, it works! What time?

BRUCE
We can only bring two people.

NED
What time!

BRUCE
Tommy is the Executive Director.

NED
I'm going.

BRUCE
I polled the board.

NED
I wrote that letter to the Mayor. I got 60 gay organizations to sign it. I organized the picketing when the prick didn't respond. That meeting is mine! It took me 21 months to get it and goddamnit I am going to go to it representing this organization that I have spent every minute of my life fighting for and that was started in my living room or I quit.

(No response. Dawns on him)
You'd let me quit? Just when you need me most? In the whole world our Mayor is the one person most responsible for letting this epidemic get out of control and grow into a plague. And now you're going to kiss his ass?
BRUCE
(takes out a letter)
The board wanted me to read you this. "We are circulating this letter widely among people of judgment and good sense. We take this action to try to combat your damage, wrought, so far as we can see, by your having no scruples whatever. You are on a colossal ego trip we must curtail. To manipulate fear as you have done repeatedly is to us sheer barbarism. To exploit the deaths of gay men, as you have done on television and in publications all over America, is to us an act of inexcusable vandalism. And to attempt to justify your bursts of outrageous temper as "part of what it means to be Jewish" is past our comprehending. And, after years of liberation, you have helped make sex dirty again for us -- terrible and forbidden. We are more angry at you than ever in our lives toward anyone. We think you want to lead us all. Well, we do not want you to. In accordance with our by-laws as drawn up by Weeks, Frankel, Levinstein, Mr. Ned Weeks is hereby removed as a director of Gay Men's Health Crisis. We beg that you leave us quietly and not destroy us and what good work we manage despite your disapproval."

Note, during above we notice that Morton's lips are moving as Bruce reads. He is the writer of this letter.

INT. NEW GMHC OFFICE. DAY

Ned is clearing out stuff from his cubbyhole corner. Some volunteers watch nervously. Ned is pushing Tommy away. More volunteers will come in as the scene builds, until by the end the room is filled with people staring at Ned.

TOMMY
The Executive Director isn't on the board! I didn't have a vote! What could I have done?

NED
You didn't support me! You're all nothing but undertakers! This organization is a funeral parlor! All you do is take care of the dying! Who's fighting so the living can go on living? Who's fighting for Felix?!!

He comes across an almanac of famous gay people. Bruce enters.

NED (CONT'D)
I belong to a culture that includes Marcel Proust, Walt Whitman, Tennessee Williams, James Baldwin, Byron, Plato, Socrates, Aristotle, Alexander the Great, Cole Porter, Michelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci, so many Popes and Cardinals you wouldn't believe.

(Grabs Bruce)
Hey, Mr. Green Beret, did you know it was an openly gay Englishman who was responsible for winning the Second World War? His name was Alan Turing and he cracked the German's Enigma code. After the war was over he committed suicide, he was so hounded for being gay. Why don't they teach any of this in the schools? A GAY MAN WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR WINNING WORLD WAR TWO! If they did, maybe he wouldn't have killed himself and you wouldn't be so terrified of who you are. That's how I want to be remembered -- as one of the men who won the war.

Bruce, I know I'm an asshole. But, please, don't shut me out.

Tommy's eyes are filled with tears. Bruce holds his arms out, not to Ned, but to the room, to follow him, which they do. He looks at Tommy, who exhales, shrugs, and starts out, only to change his mind and stay with Ned.
Ned gets out of his car, retrieves several bags of groceries, and goes inside. Sam is eating a bone on the porch.

Felix is sitting in the middle of the floor. He's been eating from a bag of potato chips, and there are some Twinkie wrappers near him. Ned comes in with the bags of groceries. The place is furnished a little more. Some chintz is in evidence. Two desks and two typewriters, both obviously unused.

NED
Why are you sitting on the floor?

FELIX
I fell down trying to get from there to here.
(Ned tries to help him)
Don't touch me! I hate it when you look at me.

NED
I'm hungry. How about you?

FELIX
I looked in all my date books. No one else I slept with is sick. Maybe you're the carrier.
NED
We don't have to do this to each other.
    (beat, optimistically)
You're going to get better, Felix. You are. And you're coming with me to Yale, it'll be a blast. After my speech, I'll show you the dorm I almost jumped off the roof of when I was a freshman...

FELIX
Whoever thought you'd die from making love?

NED
Emma says the NIH is finally starting some research. We have to hope.

FELIX
Oh, do we?

NED
Yes, we do.

FELIX
And how am I supposed to do that? You Jewish boys who always think you can make the world a better place.

NED
(noting junk food)
Why are you eating this shit? You know how important it is for you to watch your nutrition.

FELIX
I have a life expectancy of ten more minutes, I'll eat what I want to eat. Ned, it's getting messier. I don't want to make you see it.

NED
Nobody makes me do anything. You should know that better than anybody. Are you going to sit on the floor for the rest of your life? Do you hear me?
FELIX
That guy Sanford who sold you the pig on Bleecker Street finally died. They say he looked like something out of Auschwitz. Do you hear me?

NED
No.

FELIX
No?! I've had over 40 treatments. No?! I've had 3, no 4 different kinds of chemo. No! I've had 3 different experimentals. Emma has spent more time on me than anyone else. And it hasn't done a thing! Emma has lost so many patients they call her Dr. Death. You cannot force the goddamn sun to come out.

NED
I am so sick of fighting, and everybody's stupidity and blindness and intransigence -- and guilt trips! You can't eat the food. Don't eat the food. Take your poison. I don't care.

(Hurling grocery items one by one to the floor)
Fish is good for you; we don't want any of that, do we? No green salad. No broccoli; we don't want any vegetables, no sir. No bread with seven grains. Who would ever want any milk. You might get some calcium in your bones.

(the milk carton explodes)
You want to die, Felix? Die!

Ned retreats to a far corner, shaking. Felix sits in the big puddle of milk and groceries. Finally, with great effort, he begins to crawl, to somehow pull himself through the mess and over to Ned. Ned grabs him and holds him tightly.

NED (CONT’D)
Felix, please don't leave me.

INT. CITICORP EXECUTIVE MEETING ROOM. DAY

The regular conference room with the guys ready to take their places. One of them, Dennis, comes to speak to Bruce.
DENNIS
Niles...Bruce. Could I speak to you confidentially?

BRUCE Sure.

DENNIS
So, my wife was at a memorial service for her fag hairdresser friend and she said she saw you.

BRUCE
I'm sorry?

129  EXT. FUNERAL PARLOR. DAY (FLASHBACK)

A WOMAN APPROACHES, stops. SNAP ZOOM, HER POV across the way: Bruce comforts a friend who has lost it on the steps. The woman stares as both men break down.

DENNIS (V.O.)
She said she saw you and another guy crying in each other's arms.

130  INT. CITICORP EXECUTIVE MEETING ROOM. DAY

DENNIS
Is that true? Was that you?

Bruce just stares. A long pause, then --

BRUCE
You fucking bigoted asshole of a rotten person!
(starts backing him up)
What do you know about dying friends and men you love in your arms? What do you know about losing every good faithful noble decent dear friend you ever had?

He has tears in his eyes, rolling down. He's finally let loose. He's possessed, ready to beat this guy's ass.
BRUCE (CONT’D)
You can go to fucking shitass ratfuck hell, you useless fuck of a human being!

TIGHT NOW on Bruce's face. We realize this outburst was all in his head.

BRUCE (CONT’D)
Wrong guy, Dennis. Tell your wife to get new glasses. Not my scene.

FOLLOW Bruce as he walks away. His emotions building and building, he's about to erupt.

INT. EXECUTIVE TOILET. DAY

Bruce rushes in and looks at himself in the mirror. He can barely keep it in. He starts sobbing and heaving, he pulls a hand drying device off the wall, he's so ashamed and angry with himself. He pauses, hears someone coming.

He goes into a stall, shuts the door. No one enters but we hear his soft gentle moans of pain coming from inside.

OMITTED

INT. BEN'S LAW OFFICE. DAY

Ben is at his desk.

FELIX'S VOICE
Your brother and I are lovers.

Ben looks up and sees Felix, whom he doesn't know or know about, walking toward him.

FELIX
I'm dying and I need to make a will.

Ben stands and indicates Felix should sit.

FELIX (CONT'D)
It's a little hard on us, isn't it, his kind of love? But it's love. I hope you know that. I haven't much time left. I want to leave everything to Ned.

He hands him a piece of paper.
BEN
(reading it)
Do you have any family, Felix?

FELIX
My parents are dead. I had a wife.

BEN
You had a wife?

FELIX
Yes. Here's the divorce.
(hands him a document)
And I have a son. She has custody.
(hands him another)

BEN
Does she know you're ill?

FELIX
I called and we said our goodbyes. She was actually rather pleasant. Although she wouldn't let me talk to my son.

BEN
How is my brother?

FELIX
Well, he blames himself, of course for everything from my dying to the state of the entire world, flagellating himself awfully because he thinks he's failed some essential test. All that plus you two still not talking. You must be as stubborn as he is.

BEN
I'll call him right away.

FELIX
Do, he's at home, packing. We're going to Yale in a few days. For Gay Week. He says he can't believe it.

BEN
He tried to kill himself there when he was a freshman.
FELIX

He just said he was very unhappy because he thought he was the only gay man in the world.
BEN
Felix, I wish we could have met sooner.

FELIX
I haven't much except a beautiful piece of land on the Cape in Wellfleet on a hill overlooking the Atlantic. Ned doesn't know about it. It was to have been a surprise. For when we'd live there together, writing away, happily ever after. I also have an insurance policy with the Times. I'm a reporter for the New York Times.

BEN
You work for the Times?

FELIX
Yes. Fashion. La de da. It's meant to come to my next of kin. I'm afraid they might not give it to him.

BEN
If he's listed as beneficiary, they must.

FELIX
But what if they don't?

BEN
I assure you I will fight to see he does.

FELIX
I was hoping you'd say that. Can I sign my will now, please, in case I don't see you again?

BEN
This will be quite legal. We can stop and get it properly witnessed as you sign it.

FELIX
My little piece of paper is legal? Then why did you go to law school?

BEN
I sometimes wonder.
EXT. BEN'S OFFICE. DAY

A very rattled moved Ben is helping Felix to the street to get a cab. Felix is having trouble walking. A beat, he pauses, bends down, faints. Off an alarmed Ben --

INT. HOSPITAL CORRIDOR. DAY

A door flies open, Ned races down the corridor to Felix.

He stops, stunned. There is his brother Ben, just standing there. Waiting for him. Ned doesn't know what to do. Then --

Ben begins to cry. He moves toward Ned, envelopes him in the hug Ned has always wanted. Off the two men --

INT. FELIX'S HOSPITAL ROOM. DAY

Curtains drawn so light is dim. Felix is almost dead. Ned comes to him.

FELIX
I should be wearing something white.

NED
You are.

FELIX
It should be something Perry Ellis ran up for me personally.

For the first time, Ned is speechless. He tries not to break down.
NED
What am I ever going to do without you?

FELIX
Finish writing something. Okay?

NED Okay.

FELIX Promise?

NED
I promise.

FELIX
It better be good. Ned, find a way to fight again. Don't lose your anger. Just have a little more patience and forgiveness, for yourself as well.

Emma comes in, followed by Ben. Felix sees that his illness has brought the brothers together and he chokes back a sob.

FELIX (CONT'D)
Emma, could we start please?

EMMA
(Taking Felix's hand)
We are gathered here in the sight of God to join together these two men. They love each other very much and want to be married in the presence of their family and friends before Felix dies. I can see no objection. This hospital is my church. Do you, Felix Turner, take Ned Weeks...

FELIX
Alexander.

EMMA
-- to be your --?

FELIX
My lover. My great true love. I do.

NED
I do.

They kiss, passionately, both crying. Emma is as emotional as they are. A beat, then --

EMMA
QUIT MAKING OUT SO I CAN TAKE A PICTURE.

They all laugh. Ned is on the bed with Felix. She takes the picture. IT FREEZES.

INT. TOMMY'S OFFICE. DAY

The phone rings. Tommy answers it.

TOMMY
THIS IS TOMMY.

A long beat. Tommy begins to cry, he says nothing. He can't speak. He simply nods and hangs up the phone.

A beat. He reaches in his desk drawer, pulls out the now noticeably larger collection of rubber-banded ROLODEX CARDS.

He flips through the Rolodex. Pulls out a card: FELIX TURNER. Adds it to the pile of cardboard tombstones.

EXT. YALE. LATE AFTERNOON

Silent and snow-covered. Find Ned. Alone. He takes a beat in the silence, moves forward.

INT. YALE DINING HALL. NIGHT

A dance is in progress. The music continues. We see two guys dancing cheek to cheek, eyes closed. Then we see more guys dancing the same way, until the camera opens up fully and we see an entire dining hall filled with couples, dancing...men with men...women with women. We see a big banner: GAY WEEK AT YALE. This is a youthful room, innocent even.

Ned, quietly crying, watches the kids do what he could never do when he was here. He eyes a young couple on the floor that reminds him of him and Felix...what they could never be and never have.

CUT BACK to Ned, tears streaming down his face. And yet, somehow, he smiles slightly, hopeful of a world that may be as we SLOW PAN OUT.
President Ronald Reagan mentioned AIDS publicly for the first time on September 17, 1985, vowing in a news conference to make AIDS research a “top priority.”

Reagan’s proposed federal budget for 1986 actually called for an 11 percent reduction in AIDS spending. By the end of 1986, there were 24,559 reported deaths.

Since the epidemic began in 1981, over 36 million people worldwide have died from HIV/AIDS.

More than 6,000 people are newly infected every day with HIV.
